Psychiatrist Won't Disclose Confession

San Quentin Prison psychiatrist David G. Schmidt declared today he would go to jail rather than ever again disclose a confession by a condemned man.

Dr. Schmidt 's testimony last week in Marin Municipal Court that Burton Abbott "indirectly confessed"the murder of Stephanie Bryan has touched off a dispute over the responsibility of prison doctors to report confessions.

"Next time I'm going to go to jail rather than violate a professional confidence," the Corte Madera psychiatrist told an Independent-Journal reporter today.

"If I were to hear a similar admission tomorrow — an admission given on the bsis of confidence between a psychiatrist and a patient—I would deem it my professional duty to hold it forever inviolate," declared Dr. Schmidt.

He qualified this by saying: "The only exception I would make would be if a confidence involved injury to someone else—such as a plot to escape, kidnap, or something of the kind. Then I would have to use my good professional judgment on what to disclose."

Acting Warden Louis S. Nelson of San Quentin, queried about Dr. Schmidt's statement, said: "I can only repeat what the warden said earlier. It is the director's rule that it shall be the duty of any employee to report without delay information of extreme sensitivity. I certainly think a confession of murder would come under that classification."

Dr. Schmidt has been a full-time employee at San Quentin for 28 years.

The doctor said he believed doctors and psychiatrists "should have the same privilege as attorneys and newspermen" when testifying in court.

(An attorney cannot be forced to disclose on the witness stand information or confession given him by a client he is defending. A newspaperman's privilege extends only to keeping secret the source of information; he is not protected from disclosing the information itself.)

"The most important thing is that the professional ought to have a little more latitude in the treatment process," said Schmidt. He urged that "some of you newspapermen" support a law to exempt doctors from "being forced to violate the confidences of patients."

Meanwhile, attorney George T. Davis of San Francisco said he was trying to arrange through Gov. Edmund G. Brown for confrontation of Dr. Schmidt and Mrs. Elsie Abbott, the mother of Burton Abbott. Mrs. Abbott has insisted on the innocence of her son, who was executed for the Stephanie Bryan kidnap-murder in the San Quentin gas chamber on March 15, 1957.

Davis said Mrs. Abbott has

Eisenhower Meets With GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The outline for a get-tough campaign against the Democrats in the 1962 congressional elections may come out of a meeting today of three party leaders with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Chairman Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.,) of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee said before he left for the Gettysburg, Pa. session he expects general agreement for an all-out effort to capture additional House and Senate seats.

Reds Bulldoze A Wide Berlin Border Path

New Pressure Is Expected From The East

BERLIN (UPI)—Communist bulldozers ground out a 300-foot-wide zone of death on the East Berlin side of the city border today, crushing summer houses and garden plots blocking a view of the barbed wire barricade.

A dozen East Berliners fled to the West today and another 20 made it to safety during the night but hundreds of others were forced into trucks and driven to temporary quarters in school buildings miles from the border.

NEW PRESSURE

West Berliners braced for new Communist pressures after disclosure that East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht had flown to Moscow.

New troubles also were feared in the Allied air corridors leading to West Berlin when the Communist Warsaw Pact nations hold maneuvers of their land, sea and air forces "in the territories of the Warsaw Pact members" in the next two months.

DUE IN BERLIN

U. S. Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert is scheduled to arrive in Berlin Wednesday for a two-day visit with Gen. Truman H. Landon, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Air Force in Europe. It was believed they would confer with American officials here over possible Communist pressure on Allied rights in the air corridors.

West German President Heinrich Luebke conferred for 80 minutes today with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President John F. Kennedy's personal representative here, but details of their conversation were not made public.

West German police said more than a dozen East Berliners fled to the West today.

Algiers Mob Hosed Down By Police

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—Police turned pressure hoses spouting blue-dyed water on a screaming mob of students in downtown Algiers today, quelling a "French Algeria" demonstration called by the secret army organization OAS.

Police went into action against 300 students in the region where settler extremists set up barricades in January, 1960, in a revolt against President Charles de Gaulle. The extremists are resisting de Gaulle's intention to give Algeria its independence.

The outbreak came on a day in which the OAS had asked French settlers to fly their black "secret army" flags from buildings in Algeria's main cities. The flag-flying was a flop in Algiers but was widespread in Oran and other cities.

Today's student demonstration broke out when the students surged from their university into streets guarded by thousands of troops and police who had been out since dawn tearing down the black flags as they appeared.

Until that happened the authorities had been congratulating themselves that the OAS flag day had failed here. In Oran extremists even managed to hoist one of the black flags on the city hall.

Acting Warden

Warden Fred R. Dickson of San Quentin Prison left Saturday for Columbus, Ohio, to attend the annual National Congress of Corrections. He is expected to return to the prison Oct. 2. Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson is acting warden in his absence.

President Challenges Reds To 'Peace Race' In U.N. Talk

The president spoke . . .

Says U.S. Has Arms, Will To Resist Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President John F. Kennedy told the United Nations today the United States has "both the will and the weapons" to resist aggression. He challenged the Communist world to drop the arms race in favor of a "peace race."

The president, in an address alternately tough and conciliatory told the Soviet Union the United States believes a peaceful agreement is possible for the central world crisis, that of divided Berlin. But he added that threat of force must be rejected, because "yielding to threats can only lead to war."

The president's address covered the broad spectrum of crises confronting a frightened world. He proposed a six-point disarmament plan and called for the creation of a U.N. peace force.

Kennedy urged the small nations of the world to rally behind the United Nations and defeat Soviet efforts to impose a "troika" system of three-man control over its police power. The troika, he said, would "replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis and confidence with gross confusion."

Applause dotted the 38 minute speech.

None came from the Soviet delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Its members sat impassively, joining only politely in the applause that greeted Kennedy's entrance.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Its members sat impassively, joining only politely in the applause that greeted Kennedy's entrance.

Asked by reporters after the speech for comment, Gromyko said he wanted time to study it. He will address the assembly tomorrow.

C. S. Jha, the Indian ambassador, said: "A very fine speech." Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, past assembly president, said the speech was "forceful in the right places, and not provocative in any manner."

LIFE AT STAKE

The president told the assembly the United Nation's very life is at stake in the issue raised by the death in Africa of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. He urged for new strength and new roles for the United Nations.

The Soviet delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, listened impassively as Kennedy spoke. It did not join in applause. The first came when Kennedy attacked the Soviet troika plan.

Watching the president was his wife, Jacqueline, who sat with white gloved hands folded across her lap.

The blue and gold assembly-hall was packed to capacity. There were standees in the public gallery.

DISARM PLAN

Kennedy proposed an approach to disarmament which would be both far-reaching and realistic.

"It is therefore our intention to challenge the Soviet Union not to an arms race but to a peace race — to advance with us step by step, stage by stage, until general and complete disarmament has actually been achieved. We invite them now to go beyond agreement in principle and to reach agreement on actual plans," he said.

Attacking the Soviet proposal to substitute a three-man executive for a single secretary-general, Kennedy urged strengthening of the charter first of all by selection of an outstanding civil servant to continue Hammarskjold's work.

Of the Soviet plan, he said: "To install a triumvirate or any panel or rotating authority, in the United Nations administrative offices would replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis, and confidence with gross confusion."

Kennedy touched on world trouble spots and solutions to

ON GERMANY TREATY

Khrushchev May Drop Deadline

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BONN, Germany (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany in his talks with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henry Spaak, diplomatic sources reported today.

"Khrushchev reportedly told Spaak that the Soviet Union prefers slow negotiations to a quick war," these sources said.

Spaak reported to the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last Thursday on his five-hour talks with Khrushchev in Moscow on the previous Tuesday.

Khrushchev was said to have told Spaak he never had commited himself to signing a peace treaty with East Germany before the end of this year.

German officials expressed surprise at this. On several occasions Khrushchev has declared that he will sign a treaty with East Germany before the end of the year, turning over control of access to West Berlin to the East German Communist regime, unless the West agrees to a German pact on his terms.

"As far as we know he has said this a number of times," officials said.

Diplomats said they understood the Spaak report to mean that Khrushchev now proposes to delay signing an East German peace treaty if negotiations are under way by the end of the year.

Khrushchev also was reported to have told Spaak he was ready to discuss with the Western powers other subjects beside Berlin and Germany.

One West German official said Khrushchev's line in talks with Spaak, a former secretary-general of NATO, was "most conciliatory." West German officials were not optimistic, however, despite Spaak's report.

"We heard the message," said one, "but we don't believe it. He has taken on the face of a mild and compromising person for this occasion."

Diplomats said despite Khrushchev's relatively mild attitude, he remained firm against including the status of East Berlin in any East-West negotiations. He took the line that East Berlin is the capital of East Germany and cannot be discussed.

Ulbricht In Russia, May Seek Parley

MOSCOW (UPI) — East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht arrived unannounced in Moscow today presumably for consultations on the latest developments in the Berlin crisis.

Ulbricht, who arrived at Moscow airport with a big entourage, may go to Sochi on the Black Sea, where Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was reported to be vacationing.

The East German Communist boss probably will confer with Khrushchev on talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in New York.

They also probably will discuss the forthcoming air, land and sea force maneuvers of the Comunist Warsaw Pact powers, announced officially today by the official Soviet Tass news agency.

Ulbricht last visited Moscow in early August. On Aug. 13, shortly after his return to East Garmany, the Communists sealed the East-West Berlin border and set off the current crisis there.

It was understood today that the East bloc Communist countries are going ahead with plans to call a peace conference of all nations who fought Germany in World War II.

U.S. SUBMITS NEW DISARMAMENT PLAN

Could Outlaw Mass Destruction Weapons, Stabilize Major Powers' Military Strength

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The United States today submitted to the General Assembly a new arms plan calling for outlawing weapons of mass destruction and stabilizing military strength of the major powers at 2.1 million men.

The plan was submitted for assembly consideration soon after President John F. Kennedy proposed to the delegates that "disarmament negotiations resume promptly and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has nt only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

Simplified, the new plan, submitted by the United States alone after Britain, France and Washington's other allies, including West Germany, had been "thoroughly advised," calls for disarmament in three stages.

Stage one envisaged:

Establishment of an international disarmament organization "with representatives of all the major powers as permanent members and certain other states on a rotating basis" to verify the carrying out of agreed disarmament measures.

Reduction of military manpower levels to 2.1 million each "for the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. and to appropriate levels not exceeding 2.1 million each for all other military significant states" in "equitable, proportionate and verified steps."

Reduction of "armaments of prescribed types" by equitable and balanced steps.

Prohibition of launching into space of vehicles capable of mass destruction.

Stage Two:

Enlargement of powers and responsibilities of the disarmament organization.

Further reduction of all arms and manpower in "equitable and balaced steps" with dismantling or conversion of military bases to peaceful uses and conversion of chemical, bacteriological and radiological weapons to peaceful uses.

Reduction of nuclear arms and vehicles for their delivery to minimum levels.

Stage Three:

"Progressive controlled disarmament and continuously developing principles and procedures of international law would proceed to a point where no state would have the military power to challenge the progressively strengthened U.N. peace force."

Countries would retain only forces and non-nuclear armaments and establishments necessary to maintain internal order and contribute to the U.N. peace force.

Manufacture of armaments for other purposes would be prohibited.

"The peace-keeping capabilities of the United Nations would be sufficiently strong and the obligations of all states under such arrangements sufficiently far-reaching as to assure the peace and the just settlement of differences in a disarmed world."

Two Judges Hold Down Marin Bench

Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Superior Court and Judge Leonard J. Thomas in Municipal Court were the only two judges sitting in Marin County courthouse today.

The rest of the county's judges and most of the attorneys were attending the California State Bar Assn. convention in Monterey. Most were expected to return by Wednesday. Cases scheduled to be heard today in other courts were put over until Friday.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Dag Services

NEW YORK (UPI) — Friends, diplomats and soldiers paid tribute yesterday to Dag Hammarskjold in several memorial services.

More than 900 worshippers including Charles W. Yost, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, diplomats and U.N. secretariat personnel, crowded Gustavus Adolphus Swedish Church. The historic church founded by Swedes considered itself the late U. N. secretary-general's "spiritual home."

Memorial services also were held at the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, where former U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge delivered a eulogy, and at Town Hall.

Swedish Count Wilhelm Wachmeister, peronal assistant to Hammarskjold, delivered the tribute at Gustavus Adolphus. He said Hammarskjold considered his Congo peace mission "the most difficult task he had ever undertaken."

Turkey Vote Set

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A campaign for elections to restore civil government in Turkey officially opened yesterday.

The military junta that overthrew the regime of Premier Adnan Menderes—executed a week ago for crimes against the constitution—set Oct. 15 as the election date.

Socialism Move

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Cairo newspapers published yesterlay details of a new presidential decree requiring personnel of nationalized industries to declare publicly the wealth of themselves, their wives and children over the past 10 years.

The decree is directed at Egyptian managerial and white collar classes.

It is a further step in socialization plans that have now effectively nationalized all industry.

Castro Plot Broken

HAVANA (AP)—A plot to assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro and lay the groundwork for another invasion of Cuba has been smashed, the government claimed last night.

A communique said 12 counter-revolutionaries armed with bazookas and hand grenades supplied by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency have been seized.

Luis Torroella, 31, described as a former Treasury Ministry employe in the Batista regime, was named as the leader of the plotters.

Climbers Die

SUMNER WELLES
Succumbs at 68

Welles Dies, FDR State Dept. Aide

BERNARDSVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Sumner Welles, 68, under secretary of state for six years during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is dead.

Welles died eary yesterday at the home of his wife's family after an illness of three weeks. He had suffered a heart attack some years ago.

A specialist in Latin American affairs, Welles was credited with coining the phrase, "good neighbor policy," and of persuading Roosevelt to pursue such a policy.

Welles served briefly as ambassador to Cuba and later was in charge of the State Department's division of Latin American affairs.

He was one of the principal American diplomats assigned by Roosevelt to work on the formulation and organization of the United Nations.

Welles was named assistant secretary of state in 1933 after Roosevelt's inauguration. He was promoted to undersecretary, the No. two position in the State Department four years later.

His resignation in the summer of 1943 was believed to have resulted from a clash of personalities with Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Hull was said to have resented Welles' habit of going directly to the White House with problems and advice.

Four Drunken Drivers Draw Stiff Fines

Four drunken drivers were fined Friday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge David R. Baty.

Eugenia S. Baker, 58, of San Francisco drew $276 fine, six months probation, and for the next 90 days may drive only for work. She was caught on Highway 101 on Thursday.

William Morrill Coffman, 34, of 85 Bolsa Avenue, Mill Valley, drew $263 fine and six months probation. He was caught on Highway 101 near Corte Madera last April 20. A prior conviction which occurred in Santa Cruz in 1950 was stricken from the records.

George Clifton Splane, 52, of 496 Alameda De La Loma, Novato, must pay $263 fine and remain on six months probation. For 90 days, he may drive only for work. He was caught on Highway 101 near Marinwood last Aug. 1.

Charles Fred Mack, 50, of 51 Lomita Drive, Mill Valley, must pay $263 fine and remain on six months probation. For the next 90 days, Mack may drive only for work. He was caught on Highway 101 near Alto interchange on Sept. 14.

BROTHER SAYS

Kennedy Would Use A-Bomb For Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says "there is no question" that President John F. Kennedy is prepared to use nuclear weapons to maintain the Allies' position in Berlin.

Appearing on an NBC television interview program yesterday—"Meet the Press"—the attorney general said: "The president and the free world are willing to use nuclear weapons to preserve our position Berlin, to insure that the people of Berlin remain free and that we have access to that city."

The attorney general said he "would hope" that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has come to this realization within the last few weeks.

Robert Kennedy said that the matter of possible use of nuclear weapons probably takes more of his brother's time and thoughts than anything else, "because when we are talking about using nuclear weapons we are talking about almost the destruction of the human race —at least a very large proportion of it."

"But on this question of Berlin and on the question of principle, and the question of whether in a particular set of circumstances if we retreat that we would never be able to stand up again, that in that particular area, as we are in Berlin at the present time, there is no question that he is prepared to use nuclear weapons.

"If it comes to that he will use nuclear weapons."

The attorney general's remarks were partly in response to questions based on a Senate speech Thursday by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine). Mrs. Smith criticized the president's efforts to build up conventional military strength. "We have practically told Khrushchev," she said "we do not have the will to use that one power — nuclear — with which we can stop him."

Probe Starts On Crashed Plane From San Francisco

BOSTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board opens an investigation today into what caused an American Airlines jetliner to skid off a runway into the waters of Winthrop Bay.

All 71 persons aboard the four-engine Boeing 707 Astrojet were rescued by a small boat flotilla yesterday after the plane careened into six feet of water while landing at Logan International Airport.

Five persons, including a stewardess and the pilot, reported injuries. One rescuer died of an apparent heart attack. He was John Luti, 58, of Revere, Mass., who collapsed aboard one of 25 private boats which sped to the scene.

The plane was inbound from San Francisco and Chicago when it skidded more than 100 yards into the bay, ripping off two of its engines and the nose wheel assembly.

Pilot Ted Jonson of Menlo Park told rescuers he was making a "normal approach . . . there was some fog . . . I landed on the runway a little farther up than I would have liked to and we skidded off the end." Skid marks extending 100 yards were visible on the runway.

CAB investigator George Van Epps of New York was told by the Airline's Dr. Anthony Ripper that the eight crew members were placed under sedation after the crash.

Van Epps said he planned to talk with the crew today before the formal investigation convened.

Stewardess Connie Forbes, 22, said "it appeared at first as if it was going to be a routine landing. The fog was very thick. I could hardly see the landing strip as the wheels touched. We continued to roll, and the pilot was braking the wheels."

Miss Forbes said that "suddenly there was a bump and we were in the air again, but a second later there was another bump and a splash. . . I knew we were in the water somewhere."

The passengers escaped through doors and windows and were removed from the disabled aircraft within seven minutes. Most didn't even get their feet wet.

Princess, Prince Can Drive Car

LONDON (AP)—The future king of England—12-year-old Prince Charles—can drive a car. So can his sister Princess Anne, age 11.

They gave a six-mile demonstration of their driving skill up in Scotland yesterday.

With Prince Charles at the wheel of the British version of the Jeep, Charles and his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, traveled from Balmoral Castle to Birkhall.

They were followed by another, Princess Anne doing the driving. Her father, Prince Philip, was her passenger.

They made the journey to visit the queen mother and Princess Margaret and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

The princess and Tony are the guests of the queen mother at Birkhall, a stately Scottish home beside the River Dee.

In Britain, 17 is the minimum age for a provisional driving license. On a private estate, however, driving licenses are not required. The royal children were driving on an estate road.

Cargo Plane Flops At Air Show, 3 Die

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—An Air Force cargo plane carrying six dare-devil Army parachutists lumbered clear of the runway yesterday, faltered, slewed off to one side and fell to a fiery crash before a shocked air show crowd of some 100,000 persons.

Three servicemen died, 12 others aboard were injured—six seriously.

Onlookers gasped as firemen broke into the C-123 to drag out the injured from the fuselage.

COPTERS HELPED

Three of four helicopters whirred out to the Hanover County airport. One hovered over the burning wreckage, the wash from its rotors beating back flames from two men in the cockpit.

The wife of a Civil Air Patrol officer, watching the CAP "Friendship Day" show on television from her mother's hospital room in Wilmington, dashed down to alert the emergency room and then began contacting blood donors.

By helicopter and ambulance, rescuers brought in the casualties. The dead were Sgt. Robert T. Turner, an Army photographer from Ft. Bragg, N. C., home base of the sky divers; and two Air Force men, Capt. John E. Markel and T/Sgt. John Lesso, both of Nellis, Nev. Air Force Base.

The injured included the six skydivers—Lt. James P. Pearson, recent winner of the world sky diving championship; M/Sgt. T. Hollis, Sgt. Joe E. Norman, Sgt. Wilfred J. A. Charrette, Sp 5 Bobby Letbetter and Pfc. Robert McDonnell.

OTHERS HURT

Others hurt were John Weston, a free lance photographer; Lt. William F. Maxey, Nellis Air Force Base, Bob Lemoyne, Wilmington Star-News photographer; and three staff members of WECT-TV, photographer John McNeill, art director James Craig and salesman C. D. Martin. All are from Wilmington.

Weston, who suffered a broken back and face injuries, said from his hospital bed: "I knew we were going to crash when we were about 300 feet up and the plane stalled. The pilot, Capt. Markel, apparently nosed down to pick up air speed and he started to bank to the left to get clear of the runway.

Clay Says Berliners Must Face Up To Reds

BERLIN (AP) — West Berliners were told last Sunday night that Gen. Lucius D. Clay had come as their defender with the same determination he showed in breaking the 1948-49 blockade of the city.

The assurances came from West Germany President Heinrich Luebke that the United States is planning a possible deal with the Soviet Union.

Luebke chose the dedication of a new West Berlin opera house to appeal to Germans to have faith in their western partners.

"We can really have confidence in the firmness of our allies. Their promises have to be taken seriously in every respect. Gen. Clay has not come here to surrender Berlin, but to defend it as he did in 1948," Luebke said.

As President John F. Kennedy's personal envoy to West Berlin, Clay told a private meeting of publishers and reporters last week that U. S. officials are informing West Germany it must face up to the existence of Communist East Germany and let the East Germans have some authority over access to Berlin.

West Berliners generally interpreted Clay's off-the-record remarks as removing all hope for the reunification of Germany in the foreseeable future.

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin commented bitterly: "We have lost some hopes but also some illusions."

By illusions the mayor meant the ability of many West Berliners to convince themselves that the concrete curtain thrown across the divided city by the Comunists Aug. 13 was merely a temporary inconvenience. British newspapers predicted a dramatic switch in U. S. policy toward Germany is shaping up despite the denials by Clay and Washington.

The Daily Mail described Clay's off-the-record remarks as a "calculated indescretion." The paper's Washington correspondent, Bruce Rothwell, reported Kennedy is about ready to grant defacto recognition to East Germany.

Rothwell said Kennedy is also believed prepared to recognize the Oder-Neisse line as East Germany's frontier, accept East German checking on access routes to West Berlin and possibly agree to limit nuclear weapons in Central Europe.

The Daily Express, under the headline "Ice is Thawing," said a deal on Berlin between the United States and the Soviet Union looks increasingly likely.

The Express speculated on why Clay had not made his statement openly and asked: "Is it because he is anxious not to offend the West German politicians or make it more difficult for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to form a coalition with the strongly nationalist Free Democrats?" The paper declared "the domestic situation in Germany must not be allowed to influence Western policy."

Three Boys, 10, Blamed For Oak Manor Fire

Six units from the Marin County Fire Department under direction of Asst. Chief Louis J. Bloom fought nearly an hour to control a fire that swept 25 acres of grass, brush, oak and bay trees behind Oak Manor yesterday.

Firemen blamed two 10-year-old boys and a boy 11 for the fire and turned them over to their parents after a reprimand. They said the blaze on a hill outside Fairfax burned close to several homes. Firemen spent until 4:40 p.m. mopping up after getting the call at 11:41 a.m.

Trinidad was discovered by Columbus in 1498 and has had ties with the Spanish, Dutch, French and finally the British.

ONE MORE DAY?

Appropriations Bills Holding Up Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress goes back to work today, hoping for adjournment by tomorrow night at the latest. The leaders were keeping their fingers crossed.

Still to be disposed of were three appropriation bills. If all goes smoothly, there is a chance Congress members still in town may be on their way home or starting jaunts as early as tonight.

Saturday was to have been the windup of the present session. Apparently, much of the House took the hope seriously and House leaders were wondering today if a quorum would show up.

These are three major items remaining:

1. The foreign aid bill — it has passed both branches, but awaits a final settlement in a Senate-House conference. The Senate voted $4,196,600,000 — 539 million dollars more than the House. Reports persist that a behind-the-scenes agreement has been reached.

2. A public works measure carrying funds for rivers and harbors, flood control, reclamation and atomic energy projects — it also has cleared both branches, the Senate voting $3,940,926,880 and the House $3,662,701,380. Conferees may meet today.

3. A final supplemental, catchall measure — the House voted $573,040,923, the Senate Appropriations Committee upped this to $1,060,894,578.

Plans to close down the 1961 session Saturday night collapsed when Republicans blocked Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's plan to bring up the supplemental bill.

This measure had been approved Friday and under Senate rules had to lay over until Tuesday unless unanimous consent were given.

HANGING BETWEEN EAST AND WEST

A 77-year-old woman is literally caught in an East-West tug of war as she tries to escape from East to West Berlin. An East Berlin policeman holds her arm while a West Berliner grabs her legs as she dangles from a second floor window of a house on the border of the city's Communist controlled and Western sectors. The woman, who escaped from East Berlin yesterday, finally was wrenched free by the West Berliner. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Berlin)

Man Arrested In Stolen Car With A Gun

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa today commended Patrolman Leon A. deLisle Jr. for cool action in disarming a man with a loaded .45-cal. revolver in a stolen car.

"DeLisle deserves great credit for bravery in the face of danger," said Chiesa.

Held without bail and still under investigation in Marin County Jail was Jerome F. Fitzgerald, 36-year-old San Francisco automobile mechanic who was caught near the Montecito Shopping Center Saturday night in a car belonging to Mrs. Pauline Vivian Lowery of 6 Clotilda Court, Mill Valley, a few hours after it had been taken Saturday afternoon from A Street between Fourth and Julia Streets, San Rafael.

Mrs. Lowery's daughter Susan Louise Lowery of 1317 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, stopped deLisle to report that she had seen her mother's car with a man in it.

De Lisle found the car and was about to call for help but noted that the occupant had seen him.

He said Fitzgerald's hand moved toward his belt so deLisle didn't delay but drew his pistol and put Fitzgerald under arrest. Searching his prisoner, he promptly discovered the fully loaded revolver.

Patrolman Gerald R. Souza reinforced deLisle and the two took Fitzgerald to the San Rafael police station where he was questioned for nearly three hours by Capt. Joseph Brusatori and Inspector Nicholas Giampoli.

Cards in his wallet later discovered in his own car with keys and a change of clothes, the vehicle being parked on Mission Avenue between Mary Street and Grand Avenue, disclosed Fitzgerald's identity.

Police said Fitzgerald was wearing soiled cotton gloves. Their inquiry continued today with checks on a number of unsolved crimes, notably the robbery two years ago of San Rafael's Purity Store where a stolen car was used and abandoned several blocks away..

Planners Give Up Utility Line Control

Marin County Planning Commission today gave up control over public utility lines by a 4-2 vote.

The commissioners voted to change the county ordinance which had given control to the planners over Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and other public utility companies which have lines or cables running through Marin.

A report from County Counsel E. Warren McGuire stated that the commission should not have jurisdiction over the Public Utilities Commission. All agreed with McGuire's finding but commissioners Felix M. Warburg and Worth Fenner. They felt the control should be kept in the commission's hands.

The commission held off action on amending an ordinance to rezone an area east of Redwood Highway and north of San Pedro Road from suburban agriculture district and retail business district to an administrative and professional district.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the commissioners the planning staff "was not in position to determine the plan of control for the area." After Dobbs requested more time for further study, the commission decided to put the matter over for the Oct. 9 meeting.

The commission also continued until Oct. 9 a hearing on a tentative map for Del Miramar Subdivision east of Del Mar Estates No. 2 on Tiburon Peninsula.

SCHMIDT

information given her by her son as to "the real killer of Stephanie Bryan."

Dr. Schmidt said he had himself been trying to reach Mrs. Abbott to talk with her.

The disclosure of Abbott's "confession" came last week during questioning of Schmidt by Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety in the sanity trial of condemned killed Daryl Kemp. The trial jury found Kemp insane by a 9-3 vote, freeing him from Death Row to enter a state institution for treatment.

Elaborating on his testimony, Dr. Schmidt said he suggested to Abbott about two months before the execution that "you admit your guilt and throw yourself on the mercy of the governor," but Abbott replied: "I can't admit it. Think of what it would do to my mother."

This, said Dr. Schmidt, constituted an indirect confession.

The psychiatrist said he had heard reports since the testimony that he was about to retire. "My retirement date is Oct. 8, 1976," he said.

Mill Valley School Plans Are On Tap

Costs On Review

Kentfield School District trustees will preview cost estimates for a drainage ditch and for retiling floors at the Greenbrae School today at 7:45 p.m. at a board meeting in room 4, Greenbrae School. A curriculum report will also be given.

Corte Madera Planners Will Meet Tonight

Corte Madera Planning Commission will hold a public hearing tonight on Shell Oil Co's. appeal of denial by the board of adjustments for a sign at 2066 Redwood Highway.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. but the public hearing is scheduled for 10 p.m.

The planners will also consider an application from Corte Madera Hardware for an open display platform at the rear of the hardware store at 26 Tamalpais Drive.

KENNEDY

the causes of cold war conflict in his first appearance before the General Assembly.

He was most specific about halting the spread of atomic weapons. He said the new U.S. disarmament program would include a proposal for all nations to sign a nuclear test ban treaty.

"Test ban negotiations need not and should not await general disarmament talks," Kennedy said to counter Soviet insistance that discussion of a nuclear treaty be wrapped into over-all disarmament negotiations.

Kennedy advocated a special U.N. power to keep the peace throughout the world. He recommended that all member nations earmark special peacekeeping units in their armed forces to be on call to prevent aggression.

Kennedy pointed directly to threats of peace in Laos and in Germany.

For the first time he personally emphasized that in connection with a Soviet-East German pact that "the Western allies are not concerned with any paper arrangement the Soviets wish to make with a regime of their own creation, on territory occupied by their own troops and governed by their own agents."

But to make the United States' position clear, he asserted: "No such action can affect either our rights or our responsibilities."

He said the Western powers cannot surrender the freedom of West Berlin or their commitments in Germany.

"A 'peace treaty' which would destroy the peace would be a fraud," he said. "A 'free city' which would suffocate freedom would be an infamy."

The Western Allies "have calmly resolved to defend, by whatever means are forced upon them their obligations and their access to the free citizens of West Berlin and the self-determination of those citizens," Kennedy said.

"Firmness and reason," rather than brandishing or yielding to threats, can lead to peaceful solutions, he said. The president held out hope for peaceful solution to the nations represented in the United Nations who have grown alarmed at the hazardous situation in divided Berlin.

He said troops and tanks can for a time divide a nation against its will.

"But we believe a peaceful agreement is possible which protects the freedom of West Berlin and Allied presence and access, while recognizing the historic and legitimate interests of others in assuring European security."

Events of the next 10 months may well decide man's fate for the next 10,000 years, Kennedy declared. He pledged every effort to spare future generations the scourge of war.

"I pledge you that we shall neither commit nor provoke aggression — that we shall neither flee nor invoke the threat of force — that we shall never negotiate out of fear and never fear to negotiate," he said.

To the noncommitted nations which make up nearly half the U. N. membership, Kennedy said "a worldwide declaration of independence has transferred nearly a billion people and nine million square miles into 42 independent states since World War II. In response to their protests against Western colonialism, he said less than 2 per cent of the world's population now lives under such rule.

The United States intends to be a participant and not merely an observer in the movement of nations from colonial to equal status, Kennedy said. He added, referring directly to the Soviets, that "there is no ignoring the fact that the tide of self-determination has not reached the Communist empire."

Kennedy proposed a prompt resumption of disarmament negotiations which would continue without pause until complete and general disarmament has not only been agreed but actually achieved.

Clubhouse Future Is On Agenda

The board of directors of the Novato Community Club will meet with the city council tomorrow night to discuss the future use of the clubhouse before making any decision on its course of action in the case of the club versus the city.

The club directors will meet again at 9 p.m. Wednesday to plan what they will do about the clubhouse.

At a meeting Saturday, the board considered three different courses of action. They were:

1. An immediate transfer of the club property to the city with no request whatever.

2. Appeal to a higher court of Judge Joseph G. Wilson's Superior Court decision that the clubhouse must be turned over to the city.

3. An arrangement whereby the city and club can share use of the clubhouse.

The directors decided to try the third course first, said John Sorenson, club president.

"We want to try to reach some agreement so that the club will have a home and can continue to participate as a community leader," said Sorenson.

School Board Meeting Set In San Rafael

Approval of three new teachers will be considered by the San Rafael Board of Education at its meeting at 215 Mission Street at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

They are Marvin Lundwall, mathematics, science and English teacher appointed to Terra Linda High school; Lonne Baldwin, mathematics and science teacher, San Rafael High School; and Mrs. Jean Martincich, English Teacher, Terra Linda High.

The board also will be asked to release Miss Alberta Sills from her contract as English teacher at Terra Linda High because of her inability to qualify for a general secondary credential.

Trips, Breaks Nose

Mrs. Florence Innes, 69, of Berkeley, was treated for a broken nose and bruised Saturday afternoon at Marin General Hospital. She said she tripped while getting into her car at the Spinnaker Restaurant on the Sandspit in Sausalito. She was taken to the hospital by the Sausalito ambulance.

OBITUARIES

M. L. Maier, Ex-Fairfax Mayor, Dies

Morris L. Maier, mayor of Fairfax from 1936 to 1938, died of a heart attack while visiting friends in San Francisco last Saturday.

Maier, who was 61, had been under doctor's care for a heart condition for several years.

Maier was business manager for A. von Rotz Co. in San Anselmo at the time of his death.

He came to California more than 30 years ago from his native Colorado. He resided at 40 Brookside Drive in San Anselmo.

He was a member of San Rafael Lodge 1108, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks; a past president and charter member of the Fairfax Lions Club, and a director of the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

He is survived by his wife, Rose T. Maier; two sons, William Maier of San Anselmo and Donald C. Maier of Saratoga; one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Moffat of Fairfax; a brother, Kenneth Maier of San Rafael, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo tomorrow at 11 a.m. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MAE HUNDLEY

Funeral of Mrs. Mae Hundley of San Francisco, who was born and reared in Tomales, was held this morning in Tomales.

She died Saturday in a San Francisco hospital after long illness. Interment was in the family plot in the Tomales Cemetery. She was the daughter of Franklin W. Holland and Julia Sargent Holland, who came to Tomales in the 1860s.

Mrs. Hundley was the sister of Mabel W. Holland and Mrs. V. S. Hornung of San Francisco and aunt of Dr. Leslie Reardan and Dr. Frank Reardan of Sacramento, Mrs. Florence Donnelly of San Rafael; Mrs. Nye Souder and Richard Hornung of San Francisco and Mrs. William Chapman of San Mateo.

ARTHUR JARRETT

Arthur A. Jarrett, retired U.S. Department of Justice clerk, died Saturday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 74.

Jarrett, who was a native of Montgomery Creek, Shasta County, had lived in Marin County for 15 years. He resided at 51 Park Road in Fairfax.

He is survived by his wife, Leah; one daughter, Mrs. Frances Pittman of Tacoma, Wash.; a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Thomas of Georgetown, El Dorado County, two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Chapel of the Hills Mortuary on Wednesday at 2 p.m. Inurnment will be private.

MAGDA PETERSEN

Funeral services for Mrs. Magda Petersen of Penngrove, sister of Mrs. Christine Bundesen of Novato, were scheduled this afternoon in Petaluma.

Mrs. Petersen, who was 66, died Saturday in a Petaluma hospital after a short illness.

She was a native of Germany, and had resided in Sonoma County for 54 years.

She is survived by her husband, Peter C. Petersen of Penngrove; a son, James Petersen of Petaluma; two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Kram of Petaluma and Mrs. Lorraine Cunningham of Napa; three sisters, Mrs. Bundesen, Mrs. Jennie Petersen and Mrs. Frieda Larson of Petaluma; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

REV. W. M. IRWIN

Rev. Walter M. Irwin, former synodical superintendent for the Presbyterian Church for the state of Kansas and secretary of the New Era Council for the Northern Pacific and Rocky Mountain districts of the Presbyterian Church, died at a local hospital yesterday after a long illness.

Dr. Irwin, who was 88, was the father of Mrs. C. H. Crockett of Corte Madera.

A native of Kansas, Dr. Irwin had retired to San Diego thirty years ago due to ill health.

After his retirement he founded the Irwin Bible classes at the First Presbyterian Church of San Diego where he taught until coming to Marin County six months ago.

He had previously held pastorates in Deer Creek, Ill.; Shelby, Iowa; Wichita, Kan., and Raton, N.M.

A graduate of Knox College, and McCormack Theological Seminary in Illinois, Dr. Irwin received his degree of doctor of divinity from Emporia College at Emporia, Kan., and was ordained in 1897.

He was the husband of the late Bessie Francis Irwin. His survivors include three daughters, Mrs. C. H. Crockett of Corte Madera; Mrs. M. C. Peterson of Albuquerque, N.M., and Mrs. J. Ernest Kirk of Oak Park, Ill., and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo, Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. Interment will be at Riverview Cemetery at Portland, Ore.

HAROLD RICKETS

Harold A. Rickets, an assistant engineer at Dominican College in San Rafael, died at the college Saturday of a heart attack.

Rickets, 49, had been employed by the college for eight years.

A native Californian, he resided with his parents at 100 Morningside Drive in San Anselmo.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Rickets, and a brother, William E. Rickets, also of San Anselmo.

A High Mass of Requiem will be celebrated at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. The funeral cortege will leave Keaton's Mortuary at 9:15 a.m. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at the Keaton chapel.

Health Experts Look At Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Leading health experts are changing their methods of helping the sick. They are gradually recognizing the importance that the nervous system plays in good health.

These experts have noted that defective bone structure interferes with nerves and robs the body of vital nerve energy.

Sometimes a fall, a sudden jar or even poor posture can cause a slight misalignment of the spine. Nerves often are pinched when one of the 24 bones of the spine is jarred out of line. This can cause almost any type of illness imaginable . . . for the body cannot function properly when the spine is out of line.

The strange part about spinal misalignment is that the person rarely feels any great pain in his back. When ill, however, the smart thing is to look for the cause—and the safe thing is to have your spine checked by a chiropractor. Doctors of Chiropractic are specialists in correcting spinal defects.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201. (Adv)

Hagerty Says Kent Is Wrong About Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Roger Kent, chairman of California's Democratic State Central Committee, says James C. Hagerty and the American Broadcasting Company plan to give Richard M. Nixon $100,000 worth of free publicity Wednesday night.

Hagerty says, "Mr. Kent has been misinformed."

Hagerty, who was former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's press secretary, now is news director of ABC.

Former Vice President Nixon is expected to announce Wednesday night whether he plans to campaign for the Republican nomination for governor of California.

In telegrams to Hagerty and the Federal Communications Commission yesterday, Kent demanded "equal time—a full 30 minutes—to be provided by each and every one of the 400 television and radio stations owned by or affiliated with the ABC network throughout the United States on exactly the same basis that these stations participate in coverage of the Nixon broadcast under arrangements ordered by you (Hagerty) as chief of the ABC news division.

"It is our position that the Nixon broadcast is in no sense a legitimate national news event and that by extending nationwide coverage to it in your capacity as chief of the ABC news division your network becomes an organ of partisan politics serving Nixon's attempt to rebuild his bankrupt political fortunes and feed his still-burning presidential ambition."

Hagerty told San Francisco newspapers by telephone that Nexon's news conference Wednesday night will get only regional live coverage over the ABC network.

Custodian Hired By Community Unit

Samuel L. Banks Jr. has been hired by the Marin City Community Services District as part-time custodian of the community center building.

Banks, who lives at 59 Cole Drive, will work four hours each evening, Monday through Friday, secretary Juanita S. Cobb said.

Mrs. Santa Fe Moses, summer recreation program director, reported the summer program had been very successful. She said 87 youngsters attended up to the end of summer school and 125 after school ended. Forty-six teen-aged recreational aides assisted Mrs. Meade.

More Fighting Feared Due In Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Gen. Victor Lundula, commander of leftist military forces in Stanleyville, put pressure on the Congo central government today to invade Katanga.

Fears grew in Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist province, that fighting is about to break out again. Europeans began fleeing the city. A report from Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, said nearly 400 whites, mostly Belgians, had reached there from Katanga.

The campaign for an invasion of Katanga was being whipped up by supporters of the late Patrice Lumumba, who launched such an attack before he was overthrown as premier last September.

The Lumumbists have regained key positions in the central government with the reconciliation of Antoine Gizenga's rebel Stanleyville regime and the central government headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Bill Calls For College Cost Tax Deductions

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON—Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) has introduced a bill calling for income tax deductions for some of the costs of college education.

Miller's bill, introduced too late for action at this session, would allow deduction of costs of university or college tuition, books and necessary living expenses which exceed those at home. The deduction could be claimed by a taxpayer for a student dependent or by a student who is himself a taxpayer.

"The present $600 personal exemption for each dependent is simply not realistic for a dependent going to college," said Miller.

"One-third of our most promising high school graduates are financially unable to continue the development of their talents. We cannot afford this waste of our greatest resource."

He said he recognizes the plan would provide no relief for parents who are completely lacking in financial resources. "For the bright students of such parents, we still need an expanded scholarship program," he said.

Miller said he will press for hearings on his bill (H.R. 9222) when Congress reconvenes in January.

Congress this year held hearings on legislation to authorize grants to the states for college scholarships to able and needy high school graduates, but the bills were tabled in the House.

Site Suggested For Playground

Use of the vacant lot next to the Sausalito Firehouse as a playground has been recommended to City Manager Charles A. Brown by the Sausalito Recreation Commission.

Commissioners said the site might be used temporarily as an alternate for Christ Church playground which has had to be relinquished.

The commission also recommended against temporary use of a portion of the Napa-Litho property as a playground because of cost, access and safety factors.

Brown reported development work on South View Park will be completely finished early in 1962.

Father, Two Daughters Are Injured As Station Wagon Rolls At Greenbrae

A father and two daughters were injured when a station wagon rolled over and ejected all its occupants on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the Greenbrae Lanes turnoff early today.

Witnesses said the vehicle brushed a divider curb westbound at 12:16 a.m., swerving back and forth across both traffic lanes before overturning several times and coming to rest on its top.

Eusevio Ortega, Larkspur nurseryman living on Marsh Road, was treated at Marin General Hospital for facial cuts and was transferred to San Rafael General Hospital, where he was in satisfactory condition later.

One daughter, Maria, 21, was in poor condition from chest and head injuries at Marin General Hospital. Neither she nor her father was conscious when the California Highway Patrol sought to interview them.

The only initial statement had to be in writing for the other daughter, Angelina, 23, is a deaf-mute. She was the least hurt and was released by Marin General Hospital after treatment of left leg bruises.

A 16-year-old San Anselmo boy, his leg in a full-length cast from a head-on auto collision less than a month ago, took his second United Ambulance trip to Marin General Hospital Saturday after being hurt again in another car crash.

Driver in the Saturday crash was Raymond E. Butler, 19, a lumber company worker of 2436 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. He was charged with drunken driving after his sedan had plunged off Fawn Drive in Sleepy Hollow injuring two.

Larry James of 129 Woodland Avenue, who had been seriously hurt in the Aug. 31 crash of a car he was driving, got off easier this time and was treated for minor injuries as was Barbara Haynes, 20, of Oakland.

James was driver of a car that crashed head-on with a vehicle driven by another teenager the night of Aug. 31 near China Camp, with injuries to both drivers and to one passenger in each car.

At that time James suffered a fractured right knee-cap as well as face and arm injuries.

Andrew Langoria Jr., Novato auto body repairman, was in good condition today in Novato Hospital, although highway patrolmen and ambulance attendants who found him near a wrecked car yesterday thought at first he had nearly bled to death.

Langoria, 25, who lives at 723 Alice Street, was found in a field off Olive Avenue, near the wreckage of his late model sedan, yesterday afternoon.

There were large splotches of what at first appeared to be blood on the wreckage and the surrounding ground. But a closer look revealed it to be red paint, spilled from a can in the car.

Langoria suffered head and internal injuries and a cut thumb.

The car had plunged through a barbed wire fence and crossed a ditch. The driver was unable to tell investigators what happened.

Fred J. Thomas, 36, of 1060-A Las Gamos Road, Terra Linda, was reported in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today with injuries suffered when he was thrown from his small foreign car as it failed to make a curve yesterday.

Thomas was entering the northbound connector from Highway 101 into Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda when the car left the road, hit a drainage ditch and rolled over. He suffered scalp cuts and concussion.

Paul Gelardie, 15-year-old Tamalpais High School student of 222 Julia Street, Mill Valley, told the California Highway Patrol he was struck by a car as he walked home from school Friday.

The youth said that at Homestead and Stadium Way he was hit by a cut-down 1951 sedan driven by Ronald Davies, 17, of 74 Morning Sun Avenue, Mill Valley. Officers said Gelardi was not injured seriously enough to require hospitalization.

'Be' In Church, Don't Just Go, Pastor Says

One of the great efforts by Christian ministers is to have their congregations "be" the church rather than just "go" to the church, so to speak.

Rev. John D. Riley, rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael described Christian responsibility to his congregation in these terms in his sermon yesterday.

Father Riley declared that Christians have "fallen back into a modern interpretation of the church as being only that comfortable place where we can sort of relax and be lifted up by somebody else." The rector used the example of James and John who in the Scriptures are reported as having requested of Jesus places of honor in heaven.

"They looked ahead without considering what it would take to get there if they arrived at all. They were so concerned about the next life, they forgot about this one and what it takes to live here," said the San Rafael rector.

"But then comes the real test. How will you pay for these? There's no go now, pay later plan, you know. Can you drink of the cup I drink of? Can you be baptized with my baptism?" said the rector referring to Christ.

"In other words, can you really offer your life to the Father? Can you pour out that life for the people around you? This is the price for two seats, front row center. James and John answered, 'We are able.' But it still took the work of the Resurrection itself to bring their group together again after they failed the first two or three tests.

"We do thank God that there are some persons in the world sharing His cup and entering His baptism. There are a few saints today paying this kind of price and planning more about today than in worrying about all the tomorrows put together. And these saints have the real marks of humility.

"The late Secretary General of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold is a prime example of this. He has given himself in a cause greater than himself. And he was a busy man, too. Busy, if you will, in the Lord's work within the ministry of reconciliation. A meek man and a peacemaker, and yet stronger in battle than his enemies.

"The battle is on to be sure and it has been for centuries, and as one author has written, 'Peace must be established by transforming man from the interior and not be erecting external structures,'" concluded Riley.

Building Permit Increase Noted From July To August

The value of building permits issued in Marin County during August totaled $4,873,000, an increase of $538,000 over July and $677,000 over August a year ago.

Of the nine Bay Area counties, only Marin, San Mateo, Solano and Sonoma Counties showed increases over July of this year and August, 1960.

Permits issued during August, 1961, in the county's 10 cities and in the unincorporated area were:

Belvedere, $64,000; Corte Madera, $929,000; Fairfax, $36,000; Larkspur, $196,000; Mill Valley, $242,000; Novato, $275,000; Ross, $57,000; San Anselmo, $106,000; San Rafael, $1,178,000; Sausalito, $111,000; unincorporated area, $1,679,000.

In the same areas, permits issued during August, 1960, were:

Belvedere, $71,000; Corte Madera, $207,000; Fairfax, $44,000; Larkspur, $366,000; Mill Valley, $91,000; Novato, $277,000; Ross, $22,000; San Anselmo, $136,000; San Rafael, $1,705,000; Sausalito, $158,000; unincorporated area, $1,120,000.

Of the permits issued in Marin County during August, 1961, 193 were permits for dwellings valued at $3,129,000.

Financial Report For Tam District

The annual financial report of the Tamalpais Union High School District is being mailed to district residents this week.

The report is in the form of a four-page tabloid newspaper and was prepared by Chester G. Carlisle and his staff.

Distribution is primarily to parents of students at Tamalpais, Drake and Redwood high schools. Other residents may request a report by telephone or in person at the district office in Larkspur or at any of the schools, Carlisle said.

Hayakawa To Talk

S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley will speak on "The Use and Misuse of Language" at 8 p.m. Oct. 13 in Marina Junior High School Auditorium, San Francisco.

Field Service Talk Slated

An American Field Service program of information for students interested in seeking AFS exchange scholarships abroad next summer will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the San Rafael High School auditorium, Mrs. W. J. Tait, Marin representative of the service, said today.

Parents also are invited, she said.

James Moorehouse, senior student who went to Sardinia this year on the AFS program, plans to be present to help answer questions.

Two foreign students now at the high school, Catherine Boyer of France and Gerd Wissman of Germany, also will be present, with their "foster" families, the Joseph Jacobsens and the Robert Houstons, she said.

WINNER IN ROSS —Belvedere architect John Lord King designed this home on Upper Road, Ross, for Mr. and Mrs. John H. Painter. It also won a merit award in the Sunset-American Institute of Architects contest. Another picture of this home appeared on page H19 of the Independent-Journal's "Marin Parade of Homes" last Friday.

WINNER IN KENT WOODLANDS — Architect George T. Rockrise won a Sunset Magazine American Institute merit award for this home at 25 Rock Road in Kent Woodlands, designed and built for Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bomberger.

5 Marin Homes Win Western Awards

Five Marin County homes are winners in the 1961-1962 Western Home Awards Program, sponsored biennially by Sunset Magazine and the American Institute of Architects.

Two of the Marin homes are in Mill Valley, the others in Ross, Kent Woodlands, and Inverness.

The awards program is to draw public attention to outstanding western architecture. This year's competition drew almost 300 entries from throughout the west, reported Sunset Magazine. Thirty-two were selected for honor awards, awards of merit, and special awards.

A Mill Valley home at 500 Tamalpais Avenue, designed for Mr. and Mrs. Tris Coffin by Henrik Bull of San Francisco, was one of the three merit award winners from Marin County.

Another was a custom home in Kent Woodlands, at 25 Rock Road, designed by George T. Rockrise of San Francisco for Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bomberger.

The third merit award winner, in Ross, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Painter. It was designed by John Lord King of Belvedere and is located on Upper Road.

The other two Marin winners received special awards for specific architectural solutions. These architects and the homes are:

John L. Field, San Francisco, for a remodeled house in Mill Valley owned by Leland H. Shain, at 192 Lovell Avenue.

Francis E. Leighton, Sacramento, for a vacation house in Inverness on Duck Cove Road, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin I. Power.

The honor award winners of this year's program will be featured in the October issue of Sunset Magazine; the others will be featured in subsequent issues. The winning architects will be honored at the California Council, American Institute of Architects Convention in Coronado, Oct. 18-22.

Episcopalians Face Church Council Fight

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

DETROIT (AP) — A clash over the conduct of the National Council of Churches moved toward a showdown today at the Episcopal general convention.

Up for consideration were several resolutions aimed at curbing the council, or severing ties with it.

The council, an interdenominational cooperative body made up of representatives of 33 denominations with nearly 40-million members, includes most of the nation's major Protestant, Orthodox and non-Roman Catholic bodies.

It has been under running fire from various individuals and groups in the country, some of whom accuse it of being too easy on communism, although the council has repeatedly denounced communism.

One of the regular accusers, The Rev. Carl McIntyre, Collingswood, N. J., "Bible Presbyterian," showed up here, distributing an "Episcopalian packet" denouncing the council.

The packet also contained articles condemning church reunion moves, and charging some episcopal leaders with heretical teachings.

The approximately 900 voting delegates to the convention also have been bombarded with similar literature from sources in a dozen cities in Arizona, Louisiana, Texas, Ohio, California and elsewhere.

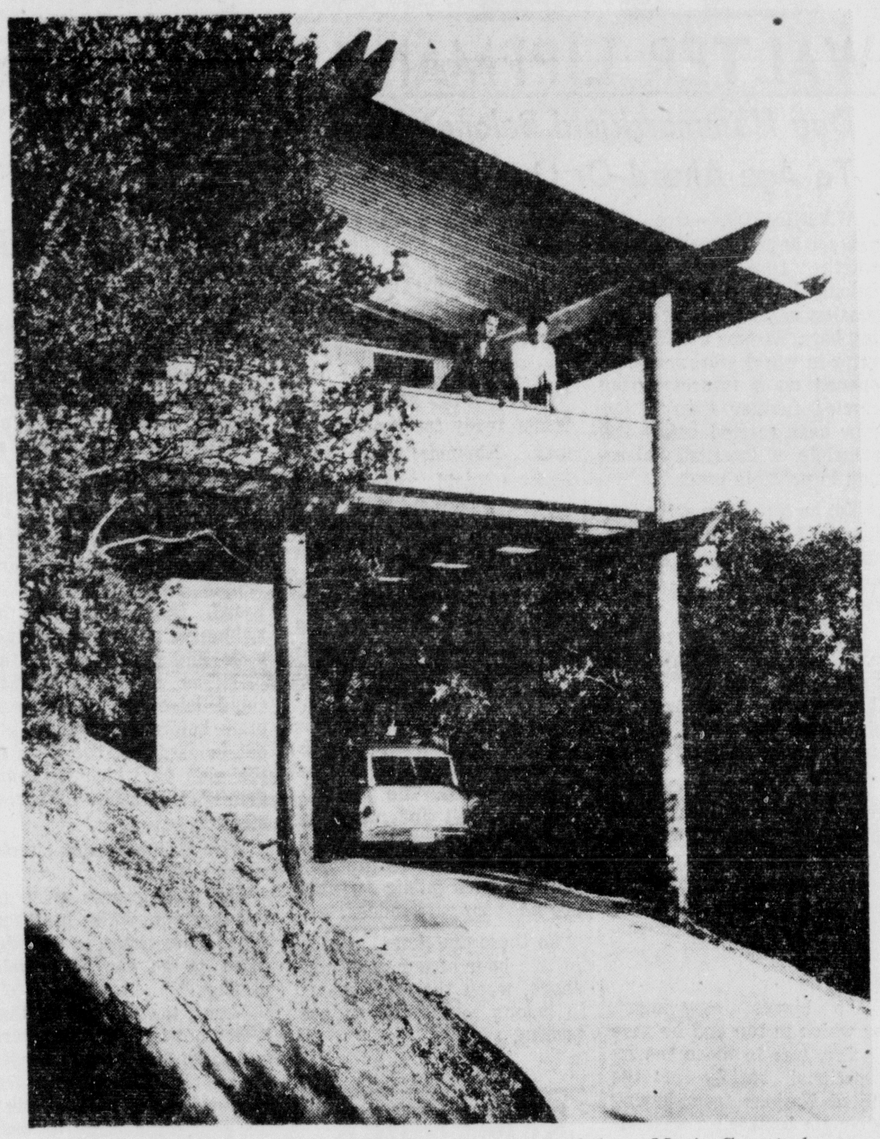
Mailing of such materials were received by all delegates before they came here. Some of it also contained racial segregationist leaflets.

J. Irwin Miller, the Columbus, Ind., diesel engine manufacturer who is president of the Council, flew into town last week, and hit back at some of the charges being circulated.

"There are no Communists in the National Council of Churches any more than there are in the American Bankers Assn. I am a member of both and they're not there, and they're not in Rotary or other groups. Why do people pick on one and not the others?" he said.

The campaign against the council has produced tensions in several denominational conventions recently, including demands for withdrawal.

However, in each case where the issue boiled to the floor, the Methodist Church, the United Presbyterian Church, the American Baptist Church, and others have stuck with the council, and commended it.



MERIT AWARD WINNER — This home at 500 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley, designed for Mr. and Mrs. Tris Coffin by architect Henrik Bull, was one of three Marin County homes announced as merit award winners in this year's Sunset Magazine American Institute of Architects competition.

It's Peaceful At G.M., But Ford Is On Union's List

DETROIT (AP) — Peace was expected to return today to the world's largest manufacturing empire—General Motors Corp.

The United Auto Workers Union ordered two weeks of crippling strikes ended last night and instructed all workers to return to their jobs today — or as soon as GM is ready for them.

While decreeing peace with G. M., with the completion of a new three-year contract, the UAW authorized open warfare against Ford Motor Co., if it doesn't meet or beat the new G. M. terms.

The UAW's International Executive Board authorized both the strike-ending and strike-threatening moves in a five-hour meeting. The board has over - all power within the union.

The UAW had let negotiations slide at both Ford and Chrysler Corp., while a new pattern-setting pact was hammered out at G.M. UAW President Walter P. Reuther already has said "Ford's will be the next door I knock on."

The date of any strike was left to the UAW's bargaining team there. Ken Banon, UAW Ford Department director said, "Things must get moving as of today."

The G.M. package includes:

1. A natinial economic agreement covering wages and fringe benefits;

2. A national noneconomic pact establishing a uniform rest period and the like, and 3. at-the-plant work rules.

Lost Fawn Is Back Home ---It's Sissy Not Ginger

Ginger, the lost fawn pictured in the Independent-Journal last Saturday, was back at her real home today.

Only her name is not Ginger. It is Sissy.

Sissy is a traveler. She spent the first five months of her life at the Galley in Sausalito. Last Tuesday Juanita Musson, the proprietor, gave Sissy to Mark, 12; Kent, 8, and Scott White, 6, of 90 Irwin Street in San Rafael.

On Friday, Sissy wandered away and wound up at the home of neighbors at 83 Bret Harte Lane. A few telephone calls around the neighborhood by the real owners' father, Earl White, revealed her whereabouts.

Sissy, who sleeps in the house at night but is allowed to wander freely in the daytime, stays close to home since her experience, White said today.

Apparently she is not so afraid of getting lost again as she is of the wild deer who wander that wooded section of San Rafael and attempt to make friends with her.

"She is scared to death of them," White said. "She much prefers people."

May Sonoma State Dream Of Excellence Come True

The birth of a new college is both impressive and gratifying. Especially if you have lived through the labor pains.

Five years ago counties of the North Bay Area were battling for establishment of a state college in our area.

Three years ago a college was assured, but individual counties and localities vied to have it placed in their locations.

Two years ago it was pretty well determined it would be in either Marin or Sonoma Counties, and finally Cotati, in Sonoma, was selected over Novato as its site.

Friday the college was dedicated as Sonoma State College. It opened its doors two weeks ago in three rented buildings with 98 full time students and 174 taking part-time, adult or other courses.

Marin was not forgotten. One of the three buildings is named Marin Hall. The others are the Library Building and the Administration Building. It will probably be several years before the college will be able to move into its permanent quarters on 240 acres of land east of the temporary site.

At the dedication there was the thrill of accomplishment, the enthusiasm of promise. A baby college with 98 students was charting a childhood growth for an expected 1100 students in the next four years. By adulthood in 1970, Sonoma State College will have 3,375 students.

But as Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, chancellor of California state colleges, said in his dedicatory address, "merit and general excellence are not associated with physical size. We need great dreams of excellence in education. In our colleges we must do things that are excellent, refusing to do those things that are not excellent. Dreams being dreamed here are not little dreams."

In welcoming our North Bay college, Sonoma State College, into the state's educational system, we can only pray that their dreams of excellence will come true.

The Bearded Ones Return

The bearded ones have few complaints. They say they do get a bit tired of their friends asking them, "Hey, Fidel, how about a few Havanas?" And "Well, Sigmund, how are the old complexes?"

The return of the beard presents a new specimen for Marin's serious people watchers. Hail to the bearded ones!

Grass upon the chin appears to be coming back into vogue. Beards are appearing on some of our best friends.

Some folks say it is a natural result of the Civil War Centennial. Others claim it a manifestation of the revolt against conformity. Still others assert it marks a return to a new era of male dominance. Several said it just meant some people are too lazy to shave.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

KEEP FIRST THINGS FIRST

A man who stopped to buy gas in Big Spring, Tex., inadvertently left his wife behind.

He drove for 175 miles before the state police caught up with him and his 11-month-old baby to tell him about his oversight.

It seems his wife had stepped out of the car and he never noticed.

One can imagine some of the thoughts that went through his mind on the long trip back. But not even the police would say how he explained his forgetfulness to "the little woman."

While the case of a man's forgetting his wife is exceedingly rare, it reminds us all to take care of our primary obligations first. As an old Moroccan proverb runs, "He who loves his wife should watch her."

Don't let preoccupation with nonessentials deflect you from more important duties to your family, community and the welfare of your immortal soul. And, if you must forget something, don't let it be your wife.

"Seek ye, therefore, first the kingdom of God and His justice, and all these things shall be added unto you."

When You're Young, You May Be Left Holding Bag For Snipe

NEW YORK (AP)—When you are young, sometimes your reach to knowledge exceeds your grasp.

Your reading can confuse you with reality.

I would like to tell you an experience of my own that taught me an unforgettable lesson: Never trust a country boy if that is all he can brag about.

Mother in tears—I didn't cry—came down to wave me farewell as I stormed aboard a train that would carry me 45 miles from Kansas City on the Missouri River ot Lexington down the same river.

It was the summer of my ignorance and I went to where my father was born—where his father from Ireland before him had dug soft coal and raised 14 children.

To me it was all new, I was the son of one of the youngest sons of the family. My father had built a business—a grocery store.

My hostess was my father's sister, whose husband then still dug coal. My father loved her dearly as he did all his sisters and brothers. My aunt had 10 kids, double what I was used to at home.

Being from Kansas City, I was amazed at the number of raisins that carpeted the ceiling. I was even more surprised to find that the raisins had wings and were flies. That's the welcome you got in the old soft coal days.

Well, my country cousins played the usual tricks that rural egotism employs, such as getting you to mix stale chocolates and chewing tobacco, then gnaw a live elm bole for relief.

That was part of your belonging. I didn't mind the tricks—except one.

That was when a child away from home I was invited to hold the bag in a snipe hunt. The idea was that the victim held a gunnysack before a lighted candle and waited for a snipe to leap across the light into the bag.

ONE OF THE reasons I held the bag before the candle so earnestly and so long was that I had read in nature study books there was a bird called the snipe. I was willing to believe, although I hadn't met one in Missouri.

As I held the empty bag in the lonely dark with the night gathering in my heart, I knew I would never believe as much as I had before.

BUT IN THE years since then I hav gone a bit farther.

There is a snipe. There was a snipe then.

And I have been where the snipe flies.

'I've Got Just The Man For Dag's Job'

WALTER LIPPMANN

Dag Hammarskjold Belongs Either To Age Ahead Or One Passing

WASHINGTON—Over the years I have often wondered whether Dag Hammarskjold belonged to an age that is passing or to one that is being born. He was a bold innovator in world affairs, and he opened up a future, having carried further than it has ever been carried before the principle of international action to promote peace.

Yet he was himself the fine flower of the European tradition of civility which, if it is not dying, certainly is not flourishing today.

He was altogether not the mass man of our times. He could be a good friend, but there was a deep reserve in his character which few if any can have penetrated.

HIS DIPLOMACY had a finesse and a courtliness in the great traditions of Europe. Never before, and perhaps never again, has any man used the intense art of diplomacy for such unconventional and such novel experiments.

The biggest experiment, for which in the end he gave his life, was to move the international society of the United Nations from having to choose between a difficult police action in Korea and sole reliance on debate and verbal expression. He moved the U. N. onto the plane of executive action without large-scale war as in Korea. This movement from words to deeds, from general resolutions to intervention, was best seen during the crisis at Suez, in Palestine, in Laos, and then in the enormous, the infinitely difficult and the infinitely dangerous crisis in the Congo.

DAG HAMMARSKJOLD was not an innovator because he had an itch to change things. He was a political innovator because there was no decent alternative. He saw no alternative to intervention by the United Nations in a crisis where there was a bitter confrontation in the cold war.

No cautious and timid man would have dreamed of staking the prestige and perhaps the future of the United Nations, as well as his personal reputation and his office, on the attempt to pacify the Congo. But great as were the risks of intervention, the risks of letting events run their course were much greater.

If the United Nations now fails in what Hammarskjold inaugurated, the prospects are that the terrible racial struggle between Europeans and Africans will become deeply entangled in the conflict between the Western powers and the Communist powers of the Soviet Union and China.

It was to avert and to prevent this fatal entangiement that Hammarskjold dared to use the powers of the United Nations. The outcome is as yet unknown.

IF THE WORLD is not ready for what Hammarskjold felt compelled to try in the Congo, it is also true, I hate to say, that this present world is not ready for the kind of man Hammarskjold was. Hammarskjold was in fact the embodiment of the noblest Western political achievement—that laws can be administered by judges and civil servants who have their first allegiance to the laws, and not to their personal, their class, or even their national interests.

No such political ideal is believed to be possible or is regarded as tolerable in the Marxist world. The ideal is not very well understood in most of the rest of the world, and there is no use pretending that such public servants are not very rare indeed.

So there are times, as now in this hour of our grief and shock, when the ideal seems to belong to things that are passing away.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A 41-passenger Greyhound bus, stolen from in front of the Belvedere station, was found by Police Chief Robert Huston high atop Belvedere Island. Suspicion fastened on island commuters who have long but fruitlessly demanded service on the hill.

20 YEARS AGO

T. A. Tomasini went before the Securities and Exchange Commission asking approval of a 20-million-dollar bond issue to finance a project for bridge and tube to connect Marin County and the East Bay.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A man who often confused himself with Young Lochinvar cherished a number of interesting ideas about the lovely young nurse who took care of him for some days at a local hospital. "Honey," he confided to her one morning, "I've fallen so deeply in love with you that I don't want to get well."

"Don't worry," she assured him. "You won't. Your doctor, who happens to be my fiance, saw you kissing me last night."

Rebecca West, British writer with a keen, penetrating wit, was confronted in a fashionable Mayfair restaurant by an internationally known boulevardier and his young companion. Although they are several inches apart in height, these two Beau Brummels effect identical suits, shirts, cravats, and haircuts.

"Good heavens," exclaimed Miss West. "They look like a nest of tables!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

New Vote On Marinwood Bonds

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As the Marinwood park bond election campaign unfolded in a sea of signs, printed words, opinions, facts, conflicting facts and plain absurdities, one wondered if all this was really necessary.

The answer is NO it was not necessary.

The entire hassle could have been prevented by one simple action by the CSD board. By recognizing the swimming pool as a separate issue and placing it on the ballot as an OPTION they could have placed the program before the voters without jeopardizing the parts of the plan on which the community is largely in agreement.

Why then was this simple step not taken?

The only answer given to this question, which has been asked many times, is, "We decided to go for the whole package."

Wasn't the real reason that it was not left for the voters to decide, that the proponents of socialized swimming for Marinwood did not feel that the pool could carry its own weight in a free election? Since the acceptance of the firehouse, community building and land acquisition was virtually assured, placing the pool along with them in an all or nothing, now or never package should insure the acceptance of the pool by the necessary two-thirds of the voters. However, this strategy did not work. It certainly should not have worked. Pressure politics should be resisted wherever they occur.

This bond issue should be . . . again placed before the voters of Marinwood in a form that will allow the voters to decide in a democratic manner which portions of the plan are in their own best interests.

It's Hard To Know What's Really Important, But Some Things Are

In these days when so many things are important, it's hard to know what is really important.

The apple tree—I told you about the apple tree before—has apples which are getting ripe. This is important.

Ralph Haney, who, with his wife, keeps a record of bird flights in "a diary where we just keep important things," said the juncos are due back on about Oct. 8. This seems important. She said that no wrens nested close to the house this year, that the red-headed finch is really called the purple finch and that she has not seen a bush tit for two months.

ALAN S. FITZGERALD of Mill Valley says mountains are important. He said he moved to California to get away from ragweed. "The only place where there isn't any ragweed is in the mountains." Last year, at 65, Fitzgerald climbed to the top of Mount Tamalpais six times. He likes mountains.

How do you get that way? He said "first of all you have to be born in a city. I was born in London and used to climb the Adirondacks when I lived in Schenectady."

Once upon the mountain, he said, he and Dick Leibes were clearing a trail when some people on a crag on the East Peak yelled to them.

"When we finally heard what they were yelling it was 'Wohin gehen sie?' That is German for 'Where are you going?' You will see more Europeans on the mountain on foot than native Americans. Fitzgerald, an electrical engineer and an inventor, said the people like to climb "because you feel so good when you get to the top."

He said many English people are attracted to Mill Valley because the climate is similar to England's. But he added, "Mill Valley is un-American because it has five drug stores and you can't buy an ice cream soda at one of them."

Solely in the interest of the reader, we learned the pretty girl is Rose Ann Curran, her dog is Herman and raccoon is Patooti.

Patooti, Mrs. Curran said, was brought home at the age of two weeks by Herman "for a friend." She does not use a leash. She goes out at night by herself. She likes grapes and sugar cubes. And we and the firemen like Patooti.

OTHER THINGS, naturally, are of importance to Sausalito.

The other day City Manager Charles Brown was giving some men an examination for fireman at Central School. Someone entered the room and asked who owned the light blue Pontiac outside.

One prospective fireman looked up and said it was his. The man said "Come out and move it. They want to use the fire hydrant."

IN A BRIEF DRAMA presented before the Sausalito City Council last Tuesday regarding a Nunes barge sitting athwart Valley Street, attorney from San Anselmo Wallace S. Meyers said "The only reason you want to move the barge is because someone says they don't like the way it looks. You can't legislate esthetics."

Dr. Thomas Wiper, Sausalito citizen: "I'm sick and tired of having legal advisors come here and talk down the citizen. I think people who live in this community ought to have a chance to talk. Will you please sit down? I have the floor."

Meyers: "I will not sit down." He stood.

Dr. Wiper: "I think it is high time that people proceed in accordance with the ordinance and law and not just go in and do something and then sit down and smugly lord it about the people what they have done." Applause.

This is important.

Great Hullabaloo Is Due Now That Study Exposes State Printing Plant

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—In all probability, there will be a great hullabaloo over the report on the state printing office, made by five of California's most prominent printing executives.

These five men, asked by another businessman, John E. Carr, former state director of finance, to look over the operations of the plant, have come to the conclusion that the taxpayers of California would best be served, moneywise, if there were no state printing plant at all!

THE HULLABALOO, no doubt, will come from those proponents of state socialism, who for many long years, have attempted to convince the public that the state can provide its own printing at a lower cost than can private industry; that printing of school textbooks is cheaper under the socialistic system, and that civil service surpasses the labor market as a source of supply for help.

It will be, and in fact already has been, pointed out that the five executives who made the survey with devastating frankness concerning the adequacies of the printing plant, are in the private printing business, and therefore, may want to secure some of the state's work for themselves.

THE MEN WERE aware of this possibility when they consented, in a public spirited frame of mind, to make the survey. Their report says they have leaned over backwards to present to the public a true picture of the costs of socialistic printing against private enterprise.

The state system of printing was found in one textbook job to have cost thousands of dollars which could have been saved the public. Also, it was shown that legislative printing now done by the office can be done at far less cost than the charges made by the state printing office.

THIS IS NOT the first time statements have been made to the effect that the state printing office is a luxury to the government and to the public. In all probability, it won't be the last time either.

One major question is not contained in the report: If conditions are thus in the state printing office, how are they in other functions of government?

Should not the legislature consider a state-wide survey of all state functions with a view toward determining whether they can be better served by private enterprise, and also, whether they are functioning efficiently and in the best interests of the people who pay the bills—the taxpayers?

49er Hopes Dashed By Rugged Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—San Francisco's 49ers can count on plenty of hard work this week as coach Red Hickey reloads his shotgun offense for a Lion hunt—Detroit variety.

The 49ers' high hopes for 1961 went down in a flat performance against Green Bay yesterday as the Packers muffled the Westerners' offense, both spread and regular T, and grabbed a 30-10 National Football League victory.

Since the Lions beat the Packers 17-13 in their league opener and edged Baltimore 16-15 yesterday, the 49ers face a rugged task in Detroit next Sunday.

Statistically the 49er-Packer game was close but statistics don't tell the true story.

Green Bay drove 81 yards in 12 plays for the game's first touchdown with Paul Horning plunging the final yard and booting the conversion.

San Francisco evened the count moving 49 yards in 11 plays with J. W. Lockett scoring from the 1 and Tommy Davis converting.

SHORT PUNT

Then, in the second period, when Davis was rushed and punted short, Willie Wood gathered the ball in at the 49er 39 and dashed in to score. Hornung booted the conversion and, minutes later, added a 13-yard field goal.

Davis matched the three-pointer with a 46-yard boot, longest for the 49ers in NFL competition, but the Packers had three more points and a 20-10 halftime lead on Hornung's 43-yard field goal.

The ex-Notre Dame star kicked another, this time from 15 yards out, in the third period and Max McGee took a 21-yard pass from Bart Starr for a touchdown in the final period.

KILMER PLAYS

Quarterback John Brodie, who's been jinxed by the Packers, hit nine of 20 passes but got only 93 yards. Bill Kilmer, who played the fourth period, hit only one of five throws and had two intercepted.

Biggest gainer for San Francisco was halfback J. D. Smith, with 103 yards on 16 carries. In stopping the shotgun, the Green Bay defenders appeared to concentrate the defenses against wide sweeps and gave a little up the middle—but not enough for long gainers.

Lions Hottest NFL Club, Stifle Colts

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Lions have taken up where they left off last year—as the hottest team in the National Football League—and a deep, low bow must go in the direction of their defensive unit.

The Lions, who won seven of their last nine games in 1960 then took the playoff bowl, held the top spot of the Western Conference with a 2-0 record, after stifling Baltimore's high-powered offense 16-15 yesterday.

In the season opener a week ago, the Detroit defense throttled Green Bay's juggernaut ground game 17-13, and the Lions now have won seven in a row since last season.

The defending world champion Philadelphia Eagles and Dallas share the Eastern lead. The Eagles had to scrape to get by Washington 14-7 while Dallas downed the brand new Minnesota club 21-7, handing the Vikings their first NFL loss.

Everyone else in the NFL evened matters at 1-1 except Pittsburgh, which lost 17-14 to the New York Giants. Green Bay beat San Francisco 30-10 in the Western Conference while Cleveland came from behind to down St. Louis 20-17 in the other Eastern game. Chicago beat Los Angeles 21-7 Saturday night.

HE'S A HURDLER — Jim Taylor, Green Bay Packer fullback, not only runs with plenty of power, but he can hurdle a tackler as well. Here in the third quarter of yesterday's Green Bay victory over the San Francisco 49ers in the Wisconsin city he demonstrates that ability by going into the air in an effort to clear Prospector linebacker Bob Harrison (54). Harrison, however, hung on and dropped Taylor after a one-yard gain. (AP Wirephoto)

Stanford Defense Credited In First Victory Since '59

STANFORD (AP)—They waited a long time for a football victory here. Now with one on the books, the Stanford Indians go after No. 2 when they travel to Oregon State Saturday.

The 9-7 triumph over Tulane provided a great psychological boost for Coach Jack Curtice's crew who hadn't won since Nov. 14, 1959, when they beat Oregon State at Corvallis.

Against Tulane Saturday, the Indians proved they have defense and the ability to come back.

Although they bottled up the Green Wave most of the afternoon, Stanford trailed 7-3 going into the final period. Then third string quarterback Chuck Butler, operating with the reserve unit, pitched a 47-yard scoring pass to halfback Larry Royse.

Butler and Royse are seniors although the former never has lettered and Royse saw barely enough duty last year to win his monogram. A beautiful fake befuddled the Tulane defenders on the play and Royse grabbed the throw all alone at the five and backed into the end zone.

That was the big play but Curtice was happiest about the defense, saying, "That's the best defensive effort I've seen since I've been here. The pursuit was marvelous."

Th coach also praised the work of some of his newcomers including tackle Frank Atkinson, and backs Mike Barnes and Tony DeLellis. He termed the work of quarterbacks Rod Sears, sophomore Steve Thurlow and Butler "both brilliant and erratic."

Butler's field generalship in the final quarter won him the No. 2 job behind Sears.

Cal Works On Offense For Iowa Contest

BERKELEY (AP)—California's Golden Bears, already tarnished by Texas, have a lot of hard work ahead to prepare for Saturday's game with Iowa's Hawkeyes at Iowa City.

Top items on Coach Marv Levy's agenda are generating an offense that can move the football and doubling the endurance of the defense.

Those were the problems highlighted Saturday when the Longhorns of Texas, held to a 7-3 lead at halftime, wore Cal down in the second half and eased to a 28-3 victory.

FUMBLES HELP

Four fumble recoveries and two interceptions helped California stay in the game as long as it did.

"Texas has the finest defense I've seen in the 11 games I've been at Cal," said Levy.

The Longhorns held Cal to just five first downs and 80 yards net. The Bears got just one first down—and didn't net a yard—after the half.

The Texans, led by a dazzling trio of fancy halfbacks, ran for 304 yards and passed for 115 more.

Jim Saxton picked up 83 yards in 10 carries, including 49 in the first quarter on the game's longest run.

Jerry Cook went 110 yards in 13 trips, including a 29-yard scoring jaunt without a hand laid on him.

SUB SPARKLES

Tommy Ford, listed as a third-stringer, averaged better than 10 yards a shot on three carries.

Jim Ferguson's 13-yard field goal with less than a minute left in the first half provided the only Cal points.

Douglas Jolts Aussie Ace In Tennis Final

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If Jon Douglas ever gets to Australia, the Davis Cup might get to the United States.

The Stanford Phi Beta Kappa showed he can help the U.S. team when he upset Australian Roy Emerson for the Pacific Southwest tennis title yesterday, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4.

Three Top College Gridiron Powers Open Season Saturday; Iowa Vs. Cal

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three of the teams ranked in the top 10 in the pre-season Associated Press college football poll get away to belated starts next Saturday. The late starters include Iowa and Ohio State, the Big Ten powers ranked 1 and 2, respectively.

Iowa entertains California at Iowa City, and the Buckeyes are hosts to a surprisingly strong TCU team which upset eighth-ranked Kansas last Saturday 17-16.

The third of the top 10 making its debut is Michigan State, which plunges right into the Big Ten title competition in a game at Wisconsin. The Badgers were hard-pressed to turn back a stubborn Utah eleven on a muddy field last Saturday 7-0.

California was thoroughly beaten by fourth-ranked Texas in its first start 28-3, so Iowa's performance against the Golden Bears will be watched with keen interest.

Aside from Kansas, the only other team in the pre-season top 10 to be upended Saturday was LSU, picked as No. 5. LSU bowed to Rice 16-3 before a crowd of 73,000 at Houston.

Alabama, rated No. 3, indicated it is to be reckoned with for national honors by the way it rolled over Georgia 32-6. Seventh-ranked Penn State had its troubles, but defeated Navy with a last-period surge 20-10.

Mississippi, No. 9, swarmed over Arkansas in a nationally televised game 16-0, and 10th-14-7.

Two prolonged losing streaks went by the boards. Virginia, winless in 28 games, snapped out of its doldrums to outscore William and Mary 21-6, and Stanford edged out Tulane 9-7 for its first victory in 12 starts.

In other games Duke barely got by South Carolina 7-6, Wyoming upset North Carolina State 15-14, Kansas State surprised Indiana 14-8, Maryland downed SMU 14-6 and Iowa State upset Oklahoma State in the first Big Eight encounter ranked Syracuse defeated Oregon State 19-8.

Raiders Just Miss Upset Of The Year

OAKLAND (AP)—New Coach Marty Feldman had declared his Oakland Raiders would be "much better." And they were in nearly pulling the upset of the American Football League year to date.

They led a three-touchdown favorite Dallas Texan team 35-34 until only 1 minute and 55 seconds remained yesterday. Then halfback Johnny Robinson skirted end for 13 yards and the touchdown that with a two-point conversion gave the Texans a 42-35 victory before a crowd of only 6,900.

Although they lost, the Raiders looked far superior to the team that dropped 55-0 and 44-0 decisions ot Houston and San Diego in their initial AFL outings.

It could be a team that can trounce Denver when the two clash at Candlestick Park on Sunday. The Raiders and Broncos split their pre-season engagements.

Casper Wins Tourney

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Chunky Billy Casper Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif., closed with a rush in the final nine holes yesterday and won his third straight Portland Open golf championship.

Heavies Vie In S.F. Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Alejando Lavorante, the Argentinian who is being carefully groomed for a shot at the world heavyweight title, squares off against Alonzo Johnson tonight in a 10-round bout at the Civic Auditorium.

The six foot, 3½ puncher has won 16 out of 17 professional battles, the lone loss being a decision at the hands of Roy Harris.

"Lavorante has very good hands and I predict that he will knock out Johnson," says Archie Moore, the patriarchial pugilist who may fight Lavorante after helping to smoke up interest in tonight's contest.

Let's Face It: The Packers Made Their Own Breaks Against 49ers

CONNOLLY

Three times better on the field and three times better on the scoreboard. That's the story of the Green Bay Packers' defeat of the San Francisco 49ers, 30 to 10.

And we might add, three times better on the breaks. But we must confess the Packers made their breaks all the way by relentless pressure on offense and defense. The 49ers were never in the game after the first quarter.

For some reason, the 49ers, and especially quarterback John Brodie, are "snake-bit" on the Packers home grounds. A year ago, Brodie earned the dubious distinction of throwing 13 straight misses in the first Packer game. The memory must have lingered on as John had another bad day, showing no confidence in himself or in his teammates.

The real spirit breakers were the pass interceptions that seemed to be drawn to the Packer defenders as if pulled by magnets. I doubt that you'll see another game in which so many passes were batted into the air instead of to the ground.

Every team has its individual stars. The Packers have 'em in pairs. Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor packing the ball. Guards Fred Thurston and Jerry Kramer leading the running plays. Ends Ron Kramer and Boyd Dowler snagging passes. Henry Jordan and Ray Nitschke smashing the 49ers offense. And Willie Davis and a great rookie named Adderly running back punts and kickoffs.

To match these men, the 49ers showed a sometimes stubborn defense that stopped five drives short of touchdowns, only to have three of these advances turned to successful field goals by Hornung and the ubiquitous Bart Starr.

Actually, it would have taken three more men in the middle defense to successfully stop the Packers. When the backers pulled up to stop the Green Bay line thrusts, Starr could always find a man wide open for a pass reception. Maybe the films will show the Packers using fourteen men on offense. It seemed that way most of the time.

Comparisons are odious, but the San Francisco offensive guards must be red faced when stacked up against Kramer and Thurston. On too many occasions the 49er play leaders were racked up while still on their feet, unable to lay a block, and the ball carrier had to run into his own blockers.

So it's back to the drawing board, and all is not as gloomy as it sounds, even with the prospect of facing the resurgent Detroit Lions next Sunday. The Lions beat these same Packers last week and won again yesterday to lead the league.

Pro football being what it is, both the Packers and the Lions can expect to receive their lumps on any given day, and they both have tougher schedules when it comes to out of division opponents. The 49ers are still in the league and a few more weeks should find them very much in contention.

If there is any criticism of coach Red Hickey to be made it would have to be his keeping his new and highly publicized speed men on the bench too long. The redhead chose to gamble with his veterans most of the way, and they just couldn't buck it. Perhaps the rookies would have been worse, perhaps better. The next time around will tell the story.

REDWOOD GIANT ON THE MOVE

Left Halfback Dave Cox of Redwood scampers deep in Oakland country after catching a long flyer from Giant quarterback Jim Troppmann, netting the Marinites 35 yards against Oakland High to set up Redwood's second TD run in the next play during the third period. Redwood lost, however, 18-12.

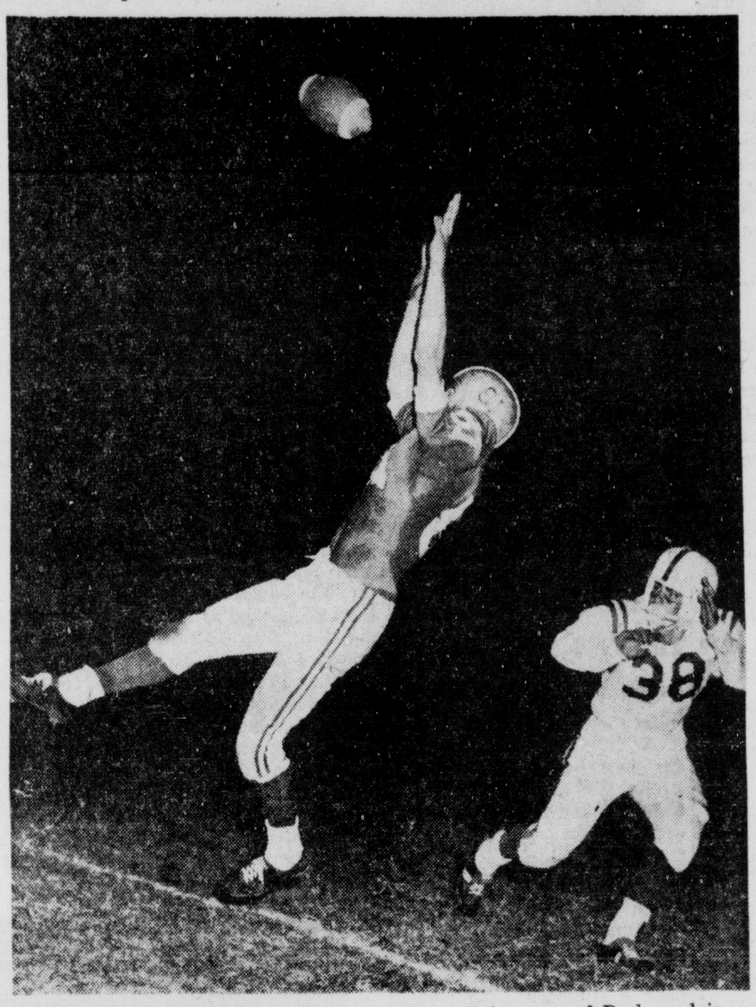
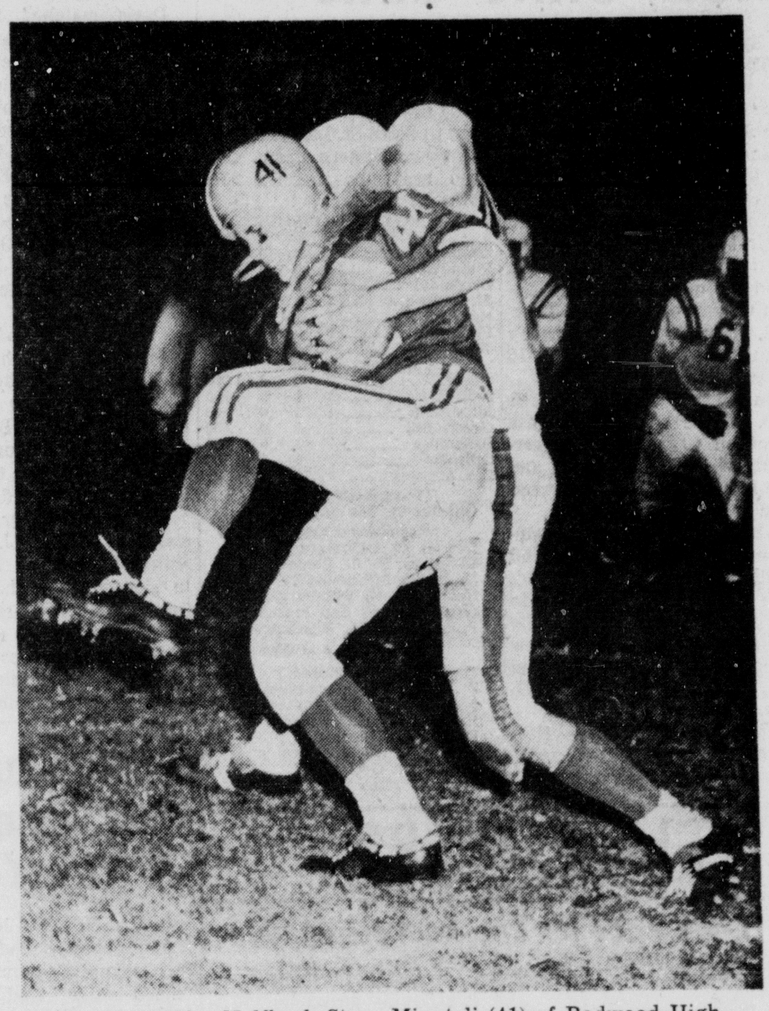
PREPARE TO DITCH—Redwood High quarterback Dave Lindsay (13) drives into Oakland High halfback Louis Harold in the team's pre-league clash Saturday night at Kentfield. Lindsay's tackle here was in the fourth quarter and limited Harold to only a few yards.

TWO SAD FRIENDS—Senior Jim Davies of Redwood High School and the school's mascot "La Bue" express disappointment in the third quarter as Oakland High scores its third TD against the Giants to win 18-12.



HERE IT COMES—Defensive end Tony Cuismane of Redwood is just about to slap down an Oakland High pass intended for Frank Giannini. This was one of several fourth down passes by the visitors to Kentfield, who went pass crazy in the final period.



CHA CHA CHA—Halfback Steve Minutoli (41) of Redwood High catches a pass in the fourth quarter from his quarterback Jim Troppmann for a first down. Climbing aboard the receiver is Bob Day, Oakland High guard.

Marin Loses Tough Battle

By PAUL MILLER

The Analy High Tigers of Sebastopol seemed more than anxious—even though victorious—to get off the field Saturday after an agonizing football bout with some skinny, rugged, tricky, spirited Wildcats from Marin Catholic High School.

Coach Harry Moore's chargers from Greenbrae had an upset in the making in their 1961 inaugural but were forced to conclude the contest with a 19-6 loss because somebody forgot the glue tubes.

The afternoon's exciting pathos at the College of Marin's rented stadium in Kentfield was as follows:

In the first period Marin Catholic in three plays had a pass intercepted on their own 45 yard line by the Tigers who ran it back to the 39. Then the favored Tigers looked as if they were going to act as predicted. They moved for two first downs in some six plays to sit on the Marin 23 first and ten and the game only minutes old. But the Wildcats would not be intimidated and forced Analy to give after linebacker John Camey broke through to throw Analy for a 15-yard loss.

The Catholic club then began to move from its own 36 on quick opening handoff plays by quarterback John Jones to Frank Ubhaus and Camey. With Jones also working keepers, Marin moved in 10 plays to the Analy 39. Analy was in a state of shock and the crowd of some 3,000 fans were electrified with the dexterity and evasiveness of Jones, his halfbacks' performances, and the hard work of the Wildcat line.

Marin was forced to punt in a fourth down situation from the 39, however, and it looked as if the spell was broken. But shocked Tiger quarterback James Whalon fumbled the punt on his own 19, and Wildcat guard Hank Ryan was on it. The Wildcats tried four pass plays from an extreme spread formation. Two of those plays could have resulted in a touchdown if receivers had performed normal catching tasks. Marin lost its first chance but not its morale.

The Wildcats were on a similar offensive drive at the conclusion of the first and on into the second period. It took them to the Analy four yard line this time. They were there with a first and 10 situation, but fumbled in a middle of the line scramble play and Analy took over and dominated the ball until scoring in that same period from one yard out, but finaling in a PAT attempt.

Catholic's big score came four plays from the Marin 25 after the Analy kickoff in the same quarter. Jones took a handoff from Camey and went eight yards on the opening play of the series. Then Jones slipped the pigskin to Ubhaus for four more through left tackle on the next play, followed by a similar operation to Camey for three more. Then from the 39, the supurb, if somewhat fumble-prone quarterback for Marin flipped a clean 25-yarder to end Paul Kruger, who went on for 35 more measures and TD cheers. The Wildcats missed their PAT on a bad hike. So at the midway gun it was a 6-6 ball game.

Analy received the third period kickoff, and bulled for 16 plays from the Tiger 30 to the Marin end zone, and a subsequent PAT. Facing the heat of the day and the stamina of Wildcat middle linemen Joe Hebel, Joe Wiseman, Tom Moran and Ryan for that many successive plays was hardly worth the score, it seemed.

The Wildcats had a heartbreaker when in that same period halfback Wally Lourdeaux started his lean six foot frame on a 70 yard gallop before he was clobbered by and exhausted Analy safety man on the Tiger's one-yard mark. Then Jones fumbled in a handoff on their opening play at the goal line, but end Don Simmerman recovered Jones' leather on the eight. But in the next snap, 262 pound Tiger tackle Roger McDermott ripped the ball from Jones' hand, and Marin lost another chance for a score and upset.

The Catholic players were in gunning position on the Analy 39 several plays later but lost the bid on another fumble. And from that time until the final gun it was just a question of holding in the heavy, hot, and humbled Sebastopol farmers. And Marin did until the final three minutes when Analy scored for the last time from the Marin 10 after about a 15-play push.

Heading for the locker room after the action coach Moore said "Analy came down here for some Wildcat meat — but they also got clawed plenty."

The Wildcats, according to their statistician, tallied 305 yards rushing, completed one pass, and picked up nine first downs. Analy had 20 first downs and 325 total yards gained.

THAT'S FAR ENOUGH—Quarterback Henry Steifel of Analy High is about to be dropped by two Marin Catholic tacklers in the Wildcats 1961 opener at Kentfield Saturday. The home team lost 19-6 in an exciting contest that with less fumbling by Marinites might have undone the visitors from Sebastopol.

Oakland Surges To Win Over Redwood

By GLENN BECKER

The surging Oakland High School Wildcats overcame a 12-0 Redwood lead in the last one and a half periods Saturday night and upended the Giants 18-12 at Kentfield.

Redwood, the defending Marin County champions, took advantage of two Oakland fumbles to build their two touchdown margin.

After playing a scoreless tie with Montgomery last week, the Giants finally broke the scoring ice late in the first half Saturday. Tackle Jack Moulthrop fell on an Oakland fumble on the Wildcat 41 yard line, and Rick Basco and Kip Solinsky battered out most of the necessary yardage in the eleven play march. Solinsky, hard-hitting fullback, scored the TD from the one. A pass for the conversion was incomplete, and the Marin team took a 6-0 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

The Giants scored in the third quarter when Moulthrop again recovered an Oakland fumble, this time at the visitors' 20 yard line. A clipping penalty threatened to foil the Giants, but a 31 yard pass play from quarterback Jim Troppmann to halfback Dave Cox gave Redwood a first down on their opponents' four. Solinsky banged over on the next play for his second TD. Another incomplete pass on the conversion attempt left the score 12-0.

At this point, Oakland, with most of its players up from the undefeated Wildcat junior varsity team of 1960, settled down and took charge. A fine runback of the ensuing kickoff started them off from their 48. With quarterback Jim Hughes skillfully directing a punishing ground attack and running the bootleg play well himself, the visitors overcame two five yard penalties and the grudgingly retreating Giant defense to score late in the third period. Fullback Elvin Brunson, who starred with Hughes in the Wildcat backfield all evening, tallied the touchdown on a seven yard burst up the middle.

A few minutes later, early in the fourth quarter, Oakland tied the score. Halfback Dennis Neal capped a 54 yard drive with a 23 yard gallop to paydirt. A 15 yard penalty against Redwood had put the Wildcats within scoring distance. Oakland failed to kick the conversion after both of these touchdowns.

The Giants, a rather inexperienced crew themselves, became a bit jittery. On the first play following the Oakland kickoff, Solinsky fumbled, and Bill Ellis recovered for the Wildcats on Redwood's 30. The visitors, having come back this far, were not about to let this opportunity to take the lead slip from their fingers. After a 20 yard gain was nullified by a five yard penalty, the unperturbed Oaklanders crashed over the goal line in just three plays, to move in front at 18-12. The downcast Giants could be cheered only by the fact that their tormentors once more failed on their conversion attempt.

The Giants seemed about to take full advantage of this flaw when on the next series

San Rafael Whips North Bay Favorites

The San Rafael Bulldogs today have two significant wins under their belts in as many outings this '61 season.

Coach Bab Muster proudly commanded his new team Saturday night in a 13-0 thumping of Montgomery High of Santa Rosa, predicted to take the title of the North Bay League's Section I crown this year.

Muster's Canines not only won, but the coach played some 32 players just to see what some of the younger ones looked like under fire, and was gratified by both the opportunity and their performance.

The Bulldogs were inside the Montgomery 35 yard line the balance of the evening, but were able to score only in the second and third stanzas even though they had several other opportunities.

First string fullback Mike Shafer of the Marin team scored the contest's first TD. The 165-pound junior fired over the center of the Montgomery forward wall from three yards out on a third down play early in the second period. Tackle Dave Athey made it seven with his points-after-touchdown kick. Seconds before the halftime intermission, Athey also attempted a 15-yard field goal that was a bit shy of its intended mark.

The Bulldogs opened up their second decisive drive from midfield in the third quarter, plundering their way on slants, quick openers and running plays to the Montgomery 11. From there his excellency Jack Sovereign, Bulldog quarterback, went in unscathed for six more points. Athey's third attempt at the uprights was blocked.

Santa Rosa protected their end zone successfully in the final period, but they did it under pressure on their own property and against second and third Bulldog units. San Rafael was on the edge of scoring several times, but couldn't go beyond the brink.

Coach Muster had good words for much of his roster, but standing out were his strong middle linemen Denis Nickel, who was in on 14 tackles, Chris Yaeger, in on 13, and Jack Clark, in on 12. In total yards gained San Rafael recorded 200 to Montgomery's 115. San Rafael passes were not numerous, but several of the completed ones were at key incidents. Halfback Alan Finley picked off one in a third and nine situation during the second period Bulldog TD drive, for which he was praised by Muster.

San Rafael demonstrated clean and alert football in losing only 15 yards on one penalty the entire game.

Coach Muster expressed pleasure in both the team's '61 victories, and added that his athletes gave themselves 110 per cent in Saturday's successful effort.

Last week San Rafael downed Hollister of Salinas Valley.

Giants Blast Reds, Delay Title Drive

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, who have been prolonging the National League pennant race in the role of "spoilers," move into Philadelphia tonight—but they can't spoil anything for the Phils.

The boys from the city of brotherly love cinched last place quite some time ago, and the Giants apparently are solidly entrenched in the No. 3 spot.

Mike McCormick (12-16) will oppose Philadelphia's Don Ferrarese (5-10) in the final game between the two teams. The Giants will rest tomorrow and then close out the season with two games against Pittsburgh and three against Milwaukee.

San Francisco prolonged Cincinnati's dash for the pennant yesterday by walloping the Reds, 12-5. But the Dodgers lost, so any combination of Cincinnati wins or Los Angeles losses totaling two will cinch the flag for the Reds.

The Giants got pitcher Jack Sanford plenty of runs in a hurry yesterday. They erupted for nine runs in the fourth inning—four of them on grand slam homer by Orlando Cepeda.

Jim Davenport smacked a three-run roundtripper in the same inning before Cepeda connected with his 45th of the season.

Sanford, who was forced from the game by 90 degree heat in the seventh inning, picked up his 13th win against eight losses.

San Francisco now trails the second-place Dodgers by four games and holds a three and one-half game edge of fourth-place Milwaukee.

of downs, signal caller Troppmann completed a 41 yard pass to Basco which gave Redwood a first down at the Oakland 26. Two more passes went awry, however, and when, on third down, Troppmann was tossed for a 16 yard loss, the last Giant drive had petered out.

Although the loss left the Giants and coach Bob Troppmann sorely disappointed there were quite a few bright spots in the Redwood picture. The running of Basco, Solinsky, and Cox stood out, as did the efforts in the defensive backfield of the first two named above and Dave Lindsay. Good line play was turned in by tackle Moulthrop, center Clark Goecker, and end Doug Houstin. Houstin played his second fine game in a row. Punter Randy Baugh again booted several long ones for the losers.

Although Redwood's 1961 record is now an unimpressive 0-1-1, it would be well for future Marin opponents of the Giants to remember that they played Saturday night without the services of three first stringers. Tackle Jon Keppel, end Bob Frost, and star halfback Keith Norton are all expected to be ready for the start of Marin County Athletic League competition three weeks hence.

M.V. Clouts Old Timers; Hub '9' Bows

The Mill Valley Merchants closed their 1961 season with a 16-5 victory over the Old-Timers before a big crowd of more than 500 at the Project 17 diamond yesterday.

Every player except one in the Merchant lineup got two hits as the younger club, leading 8 to 4 in the sixth, then broke the contest wide open with a five-run splurge.

Standouts for the Old-Timers were Dick Stone who pitched seven innings and got two hits, and Skip Larkin who also got a couple of hits. The Merchants finished their 1961 campaign with a nine win, 13 loss record against stiff competition.

The San Anselmo Merchants bowed 7-4 to the Phil Frates team from San Francisco yesterday in the Hub City.

Nino Geminiani went the full nine innings for the losers, giving up only three hits and whiffing seven. But five Merchant errors helped the San Franciscans to their victory. Gary Rogers and Bob Ostaggi led the San Anselmo hitting.

This Thursday night the Merchants travel to Healdsburg for a game.

Maris, Reds Stalled; Spahn Sets Record

By U. P.-INTERNATIONAL

Roger Maris and the Cincinnati Reds are still in search of their magic numbers but Warren Spahn's is already tucked away safely in the record book.

Maris failed again to hit "big 60" and the reluctant Reds stumbled again on the threshold of their first National League pennant since 1940 yesterday but Spahn made it look easy as he achieved the 12th 20-victory season of his career.

The Milwaukee Braves' 40-year-old left-hander did it with a two-hit, 8-0 win over the Chicago Cubs that raised his season record to 20-13 and career victory total to 308. His dozen 20-game seasons tie him in that respect with Walter Johnson and leave him one behind the career total of Christy Mathewson and four behind the lifetime total of Cy Young.

The numbers game, however, produced only frustration for Maris and the Reds, who started the weekend with their golden goals virtually in their grasp.

Maris collected only a single in three official trips to the plate as the New York Yankees bowed to the Boston Red Sox, 3-1, and still needs one more homer to equal Babe Ruth's all-time high. The Yankee slugger has five games left.

The San Francisco Giants scored nine runs in the fourth inning and wet on to whip the Reds, 12-5.

The Detroit Tigers beat the Los Angeles Angels, 7-5; the Washington Senators downed the Minnesota Twins, 4-1, on Dick Donovan's one-hitter; and the Baltimore Orioles scored a 5-3 victory after losing to the Chicago White Sox, 8-7, in other American League games.

The Cubs won the second game of their doubleheader with the Braves, 4-2, and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3, in other N. L. action.

Four Marin Warner Grid Squads Win

Terra Linda, San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Redwood all were victorious in Northern California Pop Warner Football Conference battles this past weekend.

Thus Mill Valley Indians, San Anselmo, and the Redwood Junior Giants are still undefeated in the conference as a result of their weekend work.

Tom Lecy on runs from no less than 30 yards out was responsible for four of the Indians' five TDs against the San Rafael Rangers. Fred Cordall also scored against the Rangers, who were crushed 32-7. The losers lone scorer was Steve Horgan on a 65-yard run.

San Anselmo dropped the Willits group 19-6, and Redwood pushed under Petaluma 13-6. Junior Giant scorers were Pete Bricca on a 35 yard run, and Danny Salata on a 30 yard ramble. It was a tense contest with the Marin club winning in the final minutes of action.

Terra Linda clobbered St. Vincent's 27-6. The Trojans iced the affair with three touchdowns in the first half. Outstanding players were Pat Carney and Ed Fritz, both of Terra Linda.

THE FLYING JUNIORS

Lake Merced Skipper Wins Belvedere Race

By AL MATSON

The only discordant note to an otherwise satisfactory regatta for Flying Juniors over the weekend was a short supply of wind for yesterday's races on Richardson Bay.

It was the first organized competition for that class of small sloops, and Hank Jotz, Lake Merced Sailing Club, emerged as the overall Northern California champion.

Belvedere Lagoon was the battle area for a pair of races Saturday. The breeze was a bit gusty and there was some bumping at times but with 30 entries on that tight little body of water racing room is sometimes hard to come by.

For the two races yesterday on Richardson Bay while there was plenty of elbow room, lack of motive power caused many to fail to finish.

At a dinner at Bob's Marin Restaurant on Saturday evening, an election was held and the following voted in:

Dick Reed, Millbrae, commodore; Wes Malloy, Morro Bay, vice commodore, George McCoy, Belvedere, secretary; Charles Berry, Belvedere, treasurer; Bob Sanders, Sacramento, measurer.

Oct. 8 is the date for the next race of the Flying Juniors. It will be at the Encinal Yacht Club in Alameda.

Back at Sea Cliff, N.Y., John Fisk of Great Britain won the first race in a best five of seven for the international catamaran championship in his Hellcat. The defending Wildcat owned by Roy Hickok of Newport Beach and sailed by John Beery of San Francisco struck a submerged object on the first length of the race and was forced to withdraw.

Down at Palo Alto in the Small Boat Racing Assn. regatta, Gordon Nash of Richmond Yacht Club continued to dominate the 110 class with his fellow club member Ed Melaika taking second place honors. And Hal Becker further proved the Richmond supremacy theme with a convincing first in the Zephyr class. Other winners: Thistle, Bill Neyson, Palo Alto Yacht Club; Day Sailor, Dick Griffith, Palo Alto Yacht Club; Snipe, Jim Warfield, Lake Merritt Sailing Club; Mercury, Art Peniman, San Jose Sailing Club; National, Brownie Gray, Palo Alto Yacht Club.

150 Scooters In Protest

About 150 scooters paraded Saturday in a line a mile long from San Francisco to Sausalito and back and then to Berkeley and back, their owners protesting the new state law banishing them from freeway as menaces to traffic.

Men and women, from teenagers to middle-age, some with passengers, one with a French poodle, made up the formation, escorted by California Highway Patrolmen, who were divided in their sympathies.

Some officers termed the scooterists a discriminated-against minority. Others complained they fanned out in company formation crossing the Golden Gate Bridge instead of staying in a single lane as requested.

The demonstration began before San Francisco's city hall under direction of a motor scooter dealer. "Probably sell more scooters that way," said an officer in the San Francisco police traffic detail.

Man Swept To Death In Sea, Another's Body Is Found

Identity of a man swept to death in the bay Saturday while fishing from the rocks of Rodeo Point remained a mystery today after a body discovered off Pier 29 in San Francisco yesterday was found to be that of a man missing a week.

The body was identified by the San Francisco coroner's office as that of John Albert Anderson, 68, whose wife reported he became despondent when told he had cancer and would live only three months. She said he vanished from his home in San Francisco Sept. 16 and later was learned to have taken a taxi to the waterfront.

Several persons phoned the sheriff's office yesterday to report a body in the surf off Rodeo Point — but it floated outward before anyone could reach it.

Nathan Cymet of San Francisco, who cannot swim, said he saw the man washed from the rocks of Rodeo Point Saturday. He reported the accident to the Fort Cronkhite Fire Station.

Fire Capt. Robert Stewart, 45, of Sebastopol and George Zibley, 30, a Petaluma horseman rushed out and saw the man tossed by the waves.

Zibley swam out and caught hold of the man's clothes but lost his hold when hit by a wave.

As Zibley struggled to regain shore, Stewart tied a rope around his waist and around a rock and both used the rope to pull themselves ashore. Both were treated ot the fort's first aid station for cuts and bruises.

A Coast Guard utility boat, plane and helicopter saw the body but it was too near the rocks to be accessible. Marin sheriff's deputies also joined the search.

Golf Clubs Stolen

A set of golf clubs worth $110 disappeared from a car owned by Herbert C. Belben of 650 Rosal Way, Santa Venetia, Belben told sheriff's officers Thursday. The equipment had been locked in the trunk of his car, he haid.

Contract Awarded

Paradise Engineering Co. of Corte Madera has been awarded a $10,468 contract by the State Department of Public Works for improving grounds of the Sonoma State Hospital at Eldridge.

The United States harvests about 700,000 tons of peanuts each year, a crop worth about 200 million dollars.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family" this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 66001, Houston 6, Texas. Adv.

New Chrysler Line Coming Out In Marin County On Thursday

The Chrysler line — New Yorkers, new 200s and Newports—and the Imperial—go on display Thursday. They'll be shown in Marin at the Jack L. Hunt salesrooms in San Rafael. Jack Hunt Jr. says there will be seven to 10 Chryslers and a four-door hardtop Crown Imperial. Expansion of the 300 series is the most important change in the lineup.

There are no junior editions. The Newport and 300 series are built on a 122-inch wheelbase; the New Yorker retains its 126-inch base. Chrysler established this policy last year and apparently has been successful with it.

Improvements in all three for 1962 include a new compact transmission, better cooling and choke operations, quieter starting gear, lubricant-sealed chassis fittings and more efficient power brake system. Front styling is characterized by canted headlights; grilles are massive in the New Yorker, cross-barred in the 300 and a grid pattern in the Newport.

New transmission weighs approximately 60 pounds less than its predecessor, the TorqueFlight used since 1957. Reduced size makes possible a lower and narrower transmission tunnel, increasing passenger room.

Biggest draw in Marin County as elsewhere out of 1961 stocks was the Newport. Hunt expects it to be so again this year, with considerable interest in the models 300.

Six models are offered in the Imperials. Engineering Improvements parallel those in the Chrysler series. Other changes include more room in the front compartment, more colors in the fabrics and new nacelle-type free-standing taillights.

CORRECTION: Statements in this iolumn last Wednesday that Buick's V-6 engine in the 1962 Specials in the "first 90-degree V-6 ever offered by an American manufacturer" was somewhat misleading. It's the first offered in a passenger car and was patterned after the heavier V-6 installed in GMC trucks since 1960.

KUDOS to Marin Neon that wangled a contract for all lighting around the descriptive legends for the new fish tanks in the $1,500,000 remodeling of the Steinhart Aquarium in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. Working in conjunction with Bay Electric Co. of San Francisco, the San Rafael firm designed the fixtures and will supply over 1,000 feet of neon tubing. Work will be done in stages over about a year's time.

FIVE New York Life field underwriters in Marin have qualified for the company's 1961 Star Club. They are: Joseph I. Albanese, 26 Alta Vista Way, San Rafael, Ross W. Ashley, 348 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, James F. Grant, 331 Irwin Street, San Rafael, Donald P. Sands Jr., 777 Appleberry Drive, Lucas Valley and Lowell Zellers, 26 Diamond Head Passage, Corte Madera. They have qualified in their sales records for the 1961 to attend the educational conference in Santa Barbara, Oct. 3-6.

DONALD Sternloff, 13 Edgewater Road, Belvedere, has been elected vice president of Fuller and Smith and Ross, Inc., advertising agency. He joined the San Francisco office in June 1960 as creative director; previously was head art director for 16 years at Young and Rubicam, San Francisco.

Gail Southern Now Mrs. William Ryle

Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur was the setting for the Saturday afternoon nuptials of Gail Anne Southern and William Terrell Ryle. The Rev. Hough performed the double ring ceremony.

Charles L. Southern gave his daughter in marriage. She donned a white peau de soie gown ending in a chapel lenght train.

Rosalia Sessi of San Rafael was maid of honor, wearing a kelly green satin dress. Bridesmaids were Mara Lee Southern and Vickie Lynn Southern, the bride's sisters. They wore green dresses also. Brenda Martin and Lizanne Boardman were flower girls.

Ronald Lang of Hamilton Air Force Base served as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Ryle of Novato.

Guests were seated by Donald Hohe and Patrick Wirries, both of Hamilton.

After the nuptials a recption was given at the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at the base. The couple left on a week's trip to Montery after which they will live in San Rafael.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Southern of San Rafael. She is a San Rafael High School graduate and attended San Jose State College. She is employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Mrs. Ethel Hartwell of San Rafael is her grandmother.

William is an SRHS graduate and attended Santa Rosa Junior College. He is serving with the Air Force, stationed at Hamilton. He is the brother of Mrs. Elissa Boardman of Santa Maria, Mrs. Jane Miller of Dallas and Jack L. Ryle of Abilene, Tex.

San Rafael Club Sets Barbecue

First fund-raising event for the fall term of San Rafael Improvement Club will be its barbecue tomorrow night at the clubhouse. The affair, to which members are inviting their husbands and friends, starts at 6:30.

Mrs. Clarence DeLong and Mrs. Charles Marcus are co-hairmen. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Marcus and Mrs. J. R. Stickle.

Seated at the table of Mrs. Earl W. Burns, president, will be her husband, Mayor and Mrs. John McInnis, Mr. and Mrs. James Coulter and Florence Donnelly. Also entertaining guests are Mesdames Marcus, DeLong, Eleanor Samuelson and Elie Dalmon.

Judith Malone Returning From European Tour

Judith Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Malone who are living in Rome, will arrive this week after four months in Europe with her family. She will stay with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox of Ross, after her arrival and then move into a San Francisco apartment which she will share with Lorna Zander of Ross.

Her parents will remain in Rome until December when they will return to Marin for the Christmas holidays. Judith's brother, Nicholas, and sister, Sara, returned to the United States earlier to enter school. Sara is a student at Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, N.Y.

Accompanying Judith home from Rome is Martin Denicke of Marin, who has been traveling with the Malone family in Europe.

Novato Student Is Winner In Western Song Contest

By NANCY HARDY

Novato has many exciting things happening, mostly along the Western line.

There are buckboards, horses, cowboys and now it boasts a Western singer.

Last Saturday night at the Dream Bowl Ballroom a 17-year-old Novato High School student, Regena Wright, won second place in a talent show singing Western songs.

Regena has sung in ballrooms for the last three years with such bands as Cottonseed Clark and Black-Jack Wayne.

She is in the 11th grade and plans to continue her musical career after graduation. On Oct. 21 she will appear on the Bill Rase television show, Channel 3, at 4 p.m.

Corte Madera Club Tea Set Tomorrow

The Corte Madera Women's Improvement Club will have its annual membership tea tomorrow at 2 p.m. Mrs. Richard Fiscus will preside at the first social meeting of the year. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Alfred Kraeger from the Park and Recreation Committee.

All new residents of Corte Madera and surrounding area are invited to attend.

Greeting members and their guests will be the new officers: Mesdames Fiscus, president; Harvey Warne, first vice president; Frank Wessel, second vice president; Stanley Schlobohm, program co-chairman; John Adlard, recording secretary; Earl Stover, treasurer; George Johnson, auditor; Nettie McClaren, historian; N. B. Cooper, Garden Section chairman, and Eugene Schlueter co-chairman of the Garden Section; Philip Trau, evening section. NOT SO long ago Americans fell over one another trying to prepare the family meal by cooking on the hearth with methods that would send the modern housewife scurrying out the front door shouting rebellion. The development of cooking methods to enhance flavor of food came slowly over the centuries.

When Eating Consumed Day

If the modern homemaker had to use the cooking equipment of her ancestors it might take her an hour to fry an egg and she'd rebel at the unsanitary conditions involved.

The cave lady cooked at a "stove" of hot stones. No one thought of making utensils for cooking during the stone age. When the stone stove was warmed the ashes and charred sticks were pushed off to make room for the raw food.

THEN FIRE

Discovering the use of fire to cook food made a gourmet out of the savage. Portions of meat too tough to eat raw were made palatable, roots and berries assumed nuances of flavor hitherto unknown.

Burying food in hot ashes became the last word in kitchen arts.

The savages learned that green twigs didn't burn so they built little grills with them, balanced over fire, and barbecued turtles and snakes. Chunks of fresh-killed meat were impaled an a green spear of wood stuck at an angle into the ground. The fire built did the rest.

Another ancient bit of culinary art which American Indians also practiced, and modern hunters still use was to cook a bird by coating it with clay, feathers and all, and roasting it amid white-hot ashes in a pit dug in the ground.

Mothers of antiquity filled gourds or animal skins with water and dropped hot stones into them to get hot water. From this innovation, it was a short step to the invention of vessels to hold food being cooked directly over a flame.

Evidence has been found that some savage tribes wove baskets from fire-resistant reeds and suspended them on thick poles over the "stove." Southwest Indians still make firea-nd-waterproof baskets to cook in.

IRON POPULAR

With the advent of metallurgy, iron bowls and pots were devised for cookery, and many modern cooks still prefer the iron skillet. Clay, hardened in fire, was a somewhat less permanent material for stove utensils, but it, too, had its popularity.

Open fires in the forest gave way to bricked-in ovens indoors, and life became easier every century for the lady in the kitchen.

Children were assigned to turn the meat roasting on a spit over a fire . . . and eventually dogs replaced kids on the job. "Spit boys" and spit dogs" were a medieval commodity.

Indoor brick ovens — with chimneys — used to be lighted just once a week, and the housewife had to cook as much food as she could at one time. Fuel wasn't always readily available.

The first cook stoves marketed appeared on the scene about 1830. They used wood for fuel. Coal stoves, kerosene oil, natural and artificial gas stoves paraded into view, each to be replaced by something better.

Refinement of cooking utensils macthed the development of ranges, step by step. Utensils progressed through copper, aluminum, stanless steel, heatproof glass. Now we regale our families with meals from gleaming automatic kitchens.

Columnist Takes Realistic View

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Monique Benoit, newspaper personal advice specialist, revealed that she uses the typically French realist approach to life problems in her work when she spoke at Thursday's first social meeting of the season for the Sausalito Woman's Club.

Her philisophy could be summed up in her closing quote from Goethe, "endure life, for you muse—enjoy it if you can." And a sense of humor is of great help in making this possible, she pointed out.

American are rather spoiled, she feels, especially the young people who think that happiness is their due, not a privilege to be earned, whereas the French are taught as children that life is no bed of roses, and so they are better prepared to solve their problems themselves.

The speaker who was introduced by program chairman Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, began her talk by giving the reasons why people read a column like hers and explaining why they write to her.

Reasons people other than the correspondents read such a column, she said, include curiosity, entertainment, hoping to find solutions to their own problems and satisfaction of the desire to read others' mail without a guilty feeling.

As for the people who write, they are all lonely, she said, and many are too embarrassed to confide in another person and feel she would be more objective than relatives or friends.

Together with suggested solutions to problems, she said, she tries to refer her correspondents to people or organizations suited to their needs.

Receiving rave compliments on the elaborate decor for the day were Mrs. Douglas Kerr and her assistants, Mesdames Sidney Hyde and George Eickmeyer. On the stage a garden wall was adorned with a real flower garden and a mail box labeled "jilted" held a letter addressed to the speaker. Miniature American and French flags and fresh flowers in red, white and blue decorated the foyer and tea table.

Tea chairman Mrs. Ture Dahlstrom was assisted by Mesdames Joseph Cox and H. C. McVean Jr., and pouring were two past presidents, Mesdames Emmet Rixford and Van Allen Treat.

JOYCE ARRINGTON

San Rafael Girl To Wed In Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Arrington of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Robert L. Patterson of Pueblo, Colo.

The bride-elect is a graduate of San Rafael High School and has been employed by the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. in Pueblo.

Robert is the son of Mrs. Elsie Patterson of Pueblo. He attended schools there and is employed by the Triplex Inc. there.

They plan an October wedding and will live in Pueblo.

Grand Arch Druidess Plans Official Visit

Mrs. Agatha Freeland, grand arch druidess (president) of the California and Nevada area, United Ancient Order of Druids, will visit Larkspur Circle 166 Thursday.

She will be escorted for the 8:15 p.m. meeting and initiation at American Legion Hall by Mesdames Donald Denton, Clyde Thomison, Leland Little, William Seeley and H. C. Boyer. Decorations chairman is Mrs. Jeretta Russel and Mrs. Carlotta Thomas is food chairman.

Red Cross Call For Volunteers

The Marin County Chapter of American Red Cross needs volunteers for a new program on a children's ward at Sonoma State Hospital, according to Mrs. Harry Rothrock, chairman of volunteers.

Under the direction of a social worker they will work with small groups of children, teaching them skills geared to helping them develop both socially and physically. At Sonoma there are many children who have not yet had the chance to experience the satisfactions of independent achievement. These children differ from normal children in that it takes them much longer to learn to do even simple things.

Few adults are readily available to help them, since they live in an institution and time is a scarce commodity in a large hospital with minimum personnel. A volunteer can make time available, Mrs. Rothrock said.

The program will require a few hours once a week. Volunteers will receive an orientation to the hospital and training in group work techniques. Those interested may contact Mrs. Rothrock at the Marin Red Cross Chapter, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Northbridge Tour Set

Northbridge Guild of the Junior Museum of Marin will have an orientation meeting and museum tour on Oct. 11. The tour will be led by the new museum director, Murray Dailey.

Mrs. Louis Przetak is membership chairman for the guild.

Reputation Precedes Teen-Age Girl, Out Of Reform School

Here's a letter from a promiscuous girl which all parents should read:

"My troubles started four years ago," she writes. "I was 14. My mother and I were enemies. She slapped me frequently and yelled at me. Once I asked her about sex and she screamed never to use that word again. I learned not to go to her for anything.

"I was in junior high school and had no friends. My clothes were old. I was overweight and ugly. One afternoon I walked home from school alone. A boy invited me into his house. I knew he had a bad reputation, but I went anyway. He told me about reproduction. He gave me a coke and let me go on home. I thought I had found a friend.

"Next day he had four buddies with him. I went into his house. The boys attacked me. I fought but it did no good. It was the most awful experience of my life. Afterward they said they'd kill me if I told. They meant it too.

"A month later the boy invited me in again. I knew better but I went. He was alone and I gave in. There was no one to turn to for help. In time I became pregnant. My parents had me arrested and sent to a reform school. I gave up my baby. When I got out several boys were waiting. I was glad. Boys were the only ones who ever paid attention to me.

"I have a job now but my life is the same. No one would marry me with my reputation. If only I could have gone to my mother! Please tell women not to be cruel to their teenage daughters. Tell them to love and help them. Girls need help badly."

I echo your advice to mothers, gladly. Teen-age girls need love, help and understanding. Thank you for writing.

SEW SIMPLE

Cashmere Calls For Cutting One Way, Stitching In Silk

By EUNICE FARMER

"I have some beautiful all wool cashmere of which I want to make a coat. I would like to know what sort of thread is best to sew the entire coat?" Mrs. E.T.R.

Dear Mrs. E.T.R.:

You didn't ask me this, but I am hoping you will remember that you must cut the cashmere in one direction. The nap must run "down," in other words, the same direction as fur.

Top stitching is usually done by hand with silk buttonhole twist. This stitching is called hand-picking. It serves two purposes, it is decorative detail on the plain fabric, and also holds the facing of this soft fabric in place.

You may use mercerized thread to sew any wool fabric. It has the elasticity needed for wool and is very easy to work with.

"I can never get down to serious sewing unless I have a plastic measuring tape hung around my neck. It is indispensable.

"May I make this suggestion to those who find making darts difficult, use your tape as a guide. The presser foot will hold it nicely in place while you sew to the point of the dart." Mrs. L.T.

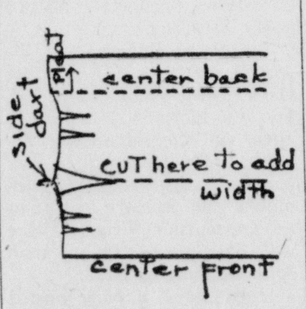
"Is there any way to add width to a straight, one piece skirt? The seam is in the back with a kick pleat." Mrs. M.O.J.

Dear Mrs. M.O.J.:

This kind of a skirt, which is cut without side seams, is almost impossible to alter once it has been cut.

You must buy a one-piece skirt pattern according to your hip measurement. Before you cut the skirt, measure the pattern from the center front to the center back, double this measurement, and add 2" for ease and you should have your exact hip measurement.

If you wish to add to the hip measurements, you would have to cut through the pattern from the end of the side dart, straight to the bottom of the pattern. Separate the pattern the exact amount you need and make your dart a little deeper at the waistline.



Hand picking: This is a decorative stitch used on plain fabrics and can be any desired distance from the edge. Use a single, waxed, thread of silk buttonhole twist. If you cannot get the buttonhole twist in the exact color you need, use a double waxed mercerized thread.

The stitch is made with a tiny back-stitch, catching in the interfacing, but not going clear through the coat facing where the stitches would show. Don't pull the stitches too tight, and they should be about ¼ inch apart. This stitch is also used when applying zippers by hand.

Please send your questions and suggestions to Sew Simple. Questions of the most general interest will be answered in this column. I have compiled a booklet of the 20 questions most frequently asked. If you would like to have this booklet send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer in care of the Independent-Journal.

BEATRICE DIANA (Yana) Moya became the bride of Giovanni Coda-Nunziante at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. The couple will live in Naples, where the bridegroom is on the staff of the University of Naples. (Du Charme photo)

'Yana' Moya Recites Vows In Ross Rite

Naples, Italy will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Giovenni Coda-Nunziante who were married at St. Anselm's Church in Ross Sept. 16.

The bride, the former Beatrice Dianna Moya, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Moya del Pino of Ross, chose a white peau de soie gown trimmed with lace for her nuptials.

Maid of honor for her sister was Clementina Moya and bridesmaids were Penelope Jardin and Mrs. Miguel Moya, sister-in-law of the bride. Flower girls were Margaret Mackey and Victoria Thys.

Dr. R. G. Bressler was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Marchesa Francesca Coda-Nunziante di San Ferdinardo of Naples.

Ushers were Miguel Moya and John Nachtrieb.

The bride was graduated from Katharine Branson School in Ross and Stanford University. The couple met while taking graduate work at the University of California.

Mill Valley Demos Meeting Tomorrow

Jerzy Lerski will speak on "The Satellite Countries in Relation to the Berlin Crisis" before the foreign policy group of Mill Valley Democrats at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the home of Art Sestak at 118 Harvard Avenue.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Sept. 25, the 268th day of the year with 97 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1789, the First Congress of the United States, meeting in New York, adopted 12 amendments to the Constitution and submitted them to the states for ratification. The first 10, the Bill of Rights, were ratified. The other two were rejected.

In 1890, Congress established Yosemite National Park.

In 1959, the Prime Minister of Ceylon, S.W.R.D. Bandaranaike, was shot by an assassin. He died the next day.

A thought for today: American writer William Faulkner said: "I believe that man will not merely endure; he will prevail."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; boldface type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You Can Direct Partner To Switch If You Try Using Follow-Suit play

In certain situations it is possible to signal with a follow-suit play so as to direct your partner to switch to a particular suit.

1 ♡	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
Double	Pass	4 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ K

West wins the first trick with the king of spades and must switch to the right suit to defeat South's game contract. If West tries to mark time by leading a trump, South will draw trumps and use the clubs to discard a diamond from dummy.

West cannot afford to lead another spade since East's raise must be based on four spades, leaving only a singleton spade in the South hand. Similarly, East sees that West's spade overcall is based on a five-card suit; so that East likewise knows that South has only a singleton in spades.

CERTAIN SWITCH: In short, both defenders know that West cannot afford to lead a second spade. A switch to a new suit is absolutely certain.

In this unusual situation East can indicate which switch he can support. By playing a low spade East would call for a switch to the lower of the two side suits; but by playing a high spade East would direct a switch to the higher side suit.

In this case East wants a shift to diamonds. Hence he plays the jack of spades at the first trick.

West leads the higher side suit, diamonds, and the defenders get two diamonds, one club and one spade to defeat the contract.

One word of caution: Don't try to use this type of signal very often. Except in very rare situations, a high card tells partner to continue the suit he has led. Use the suit preference signal only when it is obvious to both partners that a switch is certain.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold:

♥ A Q 10 9 3
♦ A 7 4
♣ A Q J 10

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. The hand would be worth a jump response if partner had opened in any suit but spades. Avoid an immediate jump response when you have neither a good fit for partner's suit nor a solid suit of your own.

Building Dispute In Marin City

Construction of the first single family homes in Marin City is being held up because financial arrangements between the Federal Housing Authority and developer James H. Scheuer have not been completed.

This information was given to the Citizens Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County at a meeting last Wednesday night in Marin City.

Housing authority executive director Bert Klahn said site improvements for Units 1, 2 and 3 are installed and ready for the development.

Several tenants asked the committee when they would get a television antenna which would give them proper reception in the low-rent housing. Klahn reported this matter "is being worked on."

Beating Charge

A 19-year-old Marin City wife, Billie Jones, of 99 Cole Drive, had her 23-year-old husband, Raymond D. Jones, arrested yesterday on a charge of beating her.

He was held in Marin County Jail on charges of assault, battery and disturbing the peace. Bail was set at $472.50.

Water Line Breaks —Service Goes Out

Residents of Woodland Avenue in San Rafael, from Irwin to Dubois Streets, were without water Friday for almost an hour after a service line broke at 81 Woodland Avenue and spilled water onto the street.

About 300 feet of Woodland Avenue cracked under the strain of heavy equipment replacing a sewage line underground. The splitting of the stretch of the street caused the three-quarter inch service line to pull away from the eight-inch main water line. Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael are the contractors.

Water was turned off from 6:15 to 7:05 p.m. as workmen from Marin Municipal Water District repaired the damaged line. The line broke at about 5 p.m.

Meet Clem Miller

Marin citizens will have a chance to meet their Congressman, Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera), at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 2 at the Tiburoners Hall on Main Street in Tiburon, the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club said today.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF STREET IMPROVEMENT BOND NO. 10 SERIES 6013 ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN THE REEDLANDS UNIT NO. 3, COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/61 Pr. $278.00; 1/2/61 Int. $108.42; 7/2/61 Int. $100.08; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 11th day of October 1961, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at my office in the County Courthouse at San Rafael, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: "Lot No. 74 as shown on the map of Reedlands Unit No. 3, Marin County, California, which said map was filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin on the 4th day of September 1958 in Book 10 of Maps at Page 4". The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the Principal thereof $278.00, Due on account of Interest $208.50. Due on account of Penalties $37.77; Total amount due on said bond $524.27.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

To Create A Desire
For YOUR House
Not Just A House

YOU NEED THE HELP OF YOUR REALTOR

Your REALTOR has the "Knowhow" to advertise your house to the best advantage for a quick sale. He knows the salient features about your property and how to use them to create in the buyer's mind the desire to make your house his home.

Your REALTOR is honor-bound not to misrepresent a property. Being unbiased and impartial and knowing just what the prospective buyers are seeking, he is able to bring just the right people to just the right house. Consequently there is always a minimum of delay in consummating the sale when you list your home with a REALTOR.

Teener Dances Set For Almonte

Almonte Improvement Club directors have unanimously reaffirmed support of constructive teen-age activity granted the Thunderbirds dance group the use of the hall for three consecutive Friday evenings beginning Sept. 29.

President Robert A. Alexander said, dances had been discontinued during the summer on recommendation of Sheriff's Sgt. Guy Gibbs because of complaints of noise.

Both Gibbs and Boone Morrison, representing the Thunderbirds, were present and supported resuming the dances, Alexander said.

The club will hold its annual meeting Nov. 4 at the clubhouse at Almonte Boulevard and Wisteria Way.

Schools Debate Series Set At Jewish Center

An outspoken critic and an earnest defender of today's American public schools will trade verbal blows tomorrow night at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael.

The occasion will be the first of a three-debate series on "Education — Where Do You Stand?" sponsored by the Jewish Community Center. The opening gong is set for 8:15 p.m.

Tomorrow night's participants will be Joel Hildebrand, chemistry professor emeritus at University of California, Berkeley, and Philip W. Schneider, superintendent of San Jose School District in North Marin. Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., a Dixie School District trustee, will moderate.

Subject will be "The Purpose of Education."

Hildebrand claims the purpose of education is to teach the subject matter that will enable the student to compete in tomorrow's world. This subject matter, he says, includes mathematics, languages, sciences, history, art, music, geography — but not "life adjustment" or much of what California schools until this fall grouped loosely under "social science." (The courses are now called history, geography, etc., but the contents have not necessarily been changed).

Schneider believes that present educational trends should not be discarded. He sees education as in constant movement and development. "Beware of people with pat answers," he says. "They miss the human values."

On succeeding Tuesdays, the Jewish Community Center will present these subjects and debaters:

Oct. 3: Rep. Clem Miller; Robert Tideman ,radio KPFA commentator and former director of Henry Gage School, and Supt. Dennie B. Willis of Dixie School District no "Financing Public School Growth," with Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator.

Oct. 10: Attorney Leighton Hatch and Earl Raab, San Francisco Jewish Community public relations counsel, on "Public Funds for Private and Parochial Schools," again with Mrs. Oppenheimer as moderator.

CBS Network Will Be Shooting Works This Wednesday Evening

It is still early in the new television season, but the CBS network will be shooting the works this Wednesday evening.

KPIX will carry two and a half hours of special programming that evening. First, from 8:30 to 9 o'clock, there will be "The American Musical Theater" with composer Richard Rodgers and vocalists Martha Wright and John Reardon. Then, from 9 to 10, Victor Borge's 20th anniversary show. And finally, from 10 to 11, a Carnegia Hall salute to Jack Benny.

Artists who will be honoring Benny for his benefit concerts which have raised two and a half million dollars for musicians' pension and endowment funds will include Isaac Stern, Van Cliburn, Benny Goodman, Roberta Peters and Eugene Ormandy and his Philadelphia Orchestra.

The highlight of the evening for Benny will come when he teams up with fellow violinist Stern for a Bach duet.

As for the irrepressible Borge, his show will range from a jazz ballet based on Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf" to the evening's lone serious highlight, an etude by Liszt. Hermione Gingold will be present to join in the fun.

A FLOCK of new shows will be bowing in during the next three nights.

This evening's newcomer will be "87th Precinct," a police action series that will be seen at 9 o'clock on KRON. It stars Robert Lansing and is based on novelist Ed McBain's series of 87th precinct Inner Sanctum mysteries.

Tomorrow night "Ichabod and Me," a comedy starring Robert Sterling, will make its first appearance at 9:30 on KPIX. It is set in a small New England town and built around a big city newspaperman who becomes editor of the village weekly.

That same evening at 9 on KRON what looks like one of the most promising of the new shows will begin its run. "The Dick Powell Show" will be a series of one-hour dramas. And the premiere will be a mystery, "Who Killed Julie Greer," with a blockbuster cast that includes Nick Adams, Ralph Bellamy, Edgar Bergen, Lloyd Bridges, Jack Carson, Dean Jones, Ronald Reagan, Mickey Rooney and Kay Thompson.

Wednesday's new ones will be "The New Steve Allen Show" on KGO at 7:30 and "Top Cat" on the same station at 8:30.

Allen will have back with him a number of favorites from his old show, including Louis Nye, Bill Dana and Dayton Allen. Tom Poston, Pat Harrington Jr. and Jayne Meadows will appear on future programs. And the format will again feature comedy sketches.

"Top Cat" is another of those cartoon comedies that are popping up in such large numbers this fall. Arnold Stang provides the voice of the central character.

TWO OLD favorites return in new time spots tomorrow, with Red Skelton on KPIX at 9:30 and Garry Moore on the same station at 10 o'clock.

And Kukla and Ollie with their fellow Kuklapolitans, missing from the TV scene too long, can now be seen daily at 4:55 p.m. on KTVU.

TONIGHT, on KRON at 6:30, "A Town, A Time, a Point of View," the story of Oakland and its civic aspirations.

And at 7:30, also on Channel 4, a repeat showing of President John F. Kennedy's address to the United Nations.

When the cold-blooded dinosaurs died off, mammals, with internal heat regulators to regulate body heat, were able to endure and spread over the face of the earth.
